Gen. Shafter Receives Orders from the Department-Quartermaster-General Authorized to Buy Two

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] NEW YORK, June 29 .- [Exclusive special says Secretary Alger this morning reiterated the statement that Gen. Otis is to have an army in the Philopines of about forty thousand men. It is not certain the army will not be increased beyond that number, as no limit has yet been determined upon in the matter of enlisting recruits for the volunteer forces. Secretary Alger said the orders to the recruiting officers would be to enlist volunteers until the department ordered them to stop.

The plan of the department is to give Gen. Otis a fighting force of 30,000 troops. This force will be exclusive of the troops needed to garrison the towns and police the cities. It will also be exclusive of the men in hospitals and unfit for active service. To give him this number of men for work, t will be necessary to provide a large number of soldiers for police duty in the cities. It is necessary to keep at all times a regiment of troops on duty n the city of Manila. Several companies are also assigned to the protection of the citizens of Iloilo. It may be that other cities will need garrisons. The enlistment of volunteers is to enable Gen. Otis to have a reserve force on hand to replace at any time any regiment in the fighting force that may. by reason of hard campaigning, be exausted and in need of rest.

"Briefly." said Secretary Alger, 'Gen. Otis is to have at all times at his disposal a fighting force of 30,000 men to take the field at any time, independent of whatever other organizations may be on hand for public duty. To give him this force, recruiting will go on until ordered to cease, and it cannot be said just now where the limit will be, whether it will be 40,000 in the aggregate, or more." President McKinley has expressed to his advisers a desire to bring home the State troops now in the Philippines without delay, and to that end instructions have been sent to Gen. Shafter at San Francisco to nurry the departure of transports from that port. These instructions may retard the reinforcement of Gen. Otis's army, as the transports will leave as oon as they are ready, whether or not the troops assigned to them have reached San Francisco. The President has authorized the Quartermaster-General to purchase two more vessels, and when these are secured, they will be hurried to Manila to bring the vol-

Raised for Service.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] WASHINGTON, June 29.—The first volunteers to be raised for service in the Philippines will be those of the skeleton regiments now being formed by Gen. Otis. It is not believed there will be the least difficulty in obtaining these

It is probable that some time will elapse before the troops of the provisional army are sent to Manila, but meanwhile they will be drilled and taught marksmanship in camp. It is estimated that three months are re-quired to make soldiers of recruits. The officers of the War Department think that a number of volunteers now coming home will desire to return to the Philippines for a short service, after they have had an opportunity to see home and friends. They are re-garded as the most desirable troops, being organized by Gen. Otis. It is learned at the War Department unteers to Gen. Otis at the present time. The rainy season having set in, it is not believed these troops will be needed for service except to relieve thos who have been on active duty.

The transport service is said to be sufficient, though ships may be cnartered temporarily, if needed. The announcement that a portion of the pro-visional army was to be raised has caused a swarm of politicians to be sent to the War Department by those who are seeking com who are seeking commissions in the new regiments.

There are two regular transports now at San Francisco, the Pennsylvania and the City of Para, one sailing June 30 and the other July 12, carrying fifty-five officers and 2300 men.

The Zealandia, Sheridan and Valencia, with fifty-six officers and 2470 men, are now an their way to Manula, and with fifty-six officers and 2470 men, are now on their way to Manilia, and are expected to arrive between July 20 and 26. There are now on their way from Manila the Ohio, Newport and Indiana, carrying 123 officers and 2204 men. They are expected to arrive between July 12 and 18.

At Manila there are the Hancock, Sherman, Senator, Morgan City, Warren and Grant, capable of carrying 278 officers and 6456 men. It is expected that these ships will bring back the State volunteers as soon as Gen. Otis

TBY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.1 WASHINGTON, June 29.-[Exclusive The War Department today sent orders to Gen. Shafter at San Francisco directing him to send to the Philippines as fast as possible, without waiting to complete organization, al the men he can arrange transportation for. These men go for the purpose of carrying out a somewhat new and better plan of campaign than has been heretofore pursued. It is now proposed by the department to garrison and hold every town taken by Gen. Otis's fight-ing men, so that the ground-once taken will remain under American control Had Gen. Otis been able to do this be fore the insurgents would not now be so close to Manila. It is proposed also to police all territory taken.

It is a mistake to suppose that 40,000 men will necessarily constitute Gen. Otis's army limit. The department will give that many fighting men, and the garrison and police force will be exclusive of this number. This applies for early fall only. If the insurrection is not crushed then, men will go when the weather is healthier and the war be wound up quickly.

garrisoned by a thousand or so volunteers, whose weapons, however, are very crude, only about 20 per cent. being armed with rifles. They are, however, full of patriotism and state that they will not yield to the Americans though the whole of the islands are destroyed.

The Hokoku Maru was warmly welcomed by the Filipinos, who consider the Japanese to be of a kindred race, and hoped for assstance from them. The Filipinos were prepared to pay for arms and ammunition, and said that Japanese vessels visiting the islands arms and ammunition, and said that Japanese vessels visiting the island could take return cargoes of hemp. Capt. Sakichi says that he only sold the insurgents two revolvers and the cook's knives.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES, WASHINGTON, June 29 - Exclusive Senator Burrows of Mich igan, who had a talk with the Prestlent today, afterward gave out an interview regarding politics in Michigan and Secretary Alger's chances for election to the Senate against Senator Mc-Millan. Senator Burrows thinks Alger will not cut much figure when the votes come to be counted in that conest, if the contest ever reaches that advanced stage. But there is a strong suggestion here that Alger will not run for the Senate at all. Some people say Gov. Pingree, with whom Alger has formed an alliance, will be the anti-McMillan candidate. This is based upon the belief that Pingree will dump Alger at the proper time and annot his own candidacy. In his interview today. Senator Burrows said: Pingree and Alger will go straight against one of the strongest and steadlest sentiments of Republicanism in the State. I refer to the strong McKinley support. Michigan thorougly believes in McKinley, and will let nothing intervene to divert it from giving the strongest possible in ment to his administration. And don't make a mistake on this point. Aiger entrusts his political fortunes to Pingree, he becomes an anti-administration man in Michigan. when Pingree and Alger join political fortunes, Alger becomes actively op-posed in Michigan to the administraon of which he is a member. "I have no information as to whether will remain in the Cabinet. Neither would I attempt to say whether he can be an anti-administration man in Michigan and at the same time be an administration man in Washington."

Ex-President Benjamin Harrison, on behalf of Venezuela, demurred to this contention, on the round that the time for filing documents had passed.
Baron Russell of Killowen, one of the arbitrators, remarked that the tribunal could scarcely rely upon half a document, when it was asserted that the whole bore a different meaning. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW LONDON (Ct.,) June 29. Harvard won all of the boat races today-three victories over Yale in three hours, and the western sky glowed crimson this evening when Harvard's 'varsity crew pulled over the finish line, six and a half lengths ahead of Yale. After eight years of defeat, the students of Cambridge are tasting the weets of success. Harvard's univer-sity eight-oared crew won from Yale over a four-mile course by six and a half lengths in 20m. 52s. Harvard's freshmen eight won from Yale, over a two-mile course, by two and a half lengths, in 9m. 331/s. Harvard's substitute four won from Yale, over a two-mile course, by six lengths, in 10m. 51s. The Harvard crews rowed a magnificent stroke. Yale has greatly modified the Cook stroke, and the boat did not go today as it did when the famous coach was there. The races were rowed in almost ideal water and wind and clear skies. The course was badly policed, boats getting into the line, and steamers kicking up swells after the race had started. Harvard in the 'varsity race very nearly collided with a number of small boats at the finish, and a heavy swell impeded Yale 'varsity race was prettily rowed but the defeat was crushing. Yale, however, rowed gamely to the finish, and neither crew showed signs of dis however, rowed gamely to the finish, and neither crew showed signs of distress.

The substitutes constituting the variety fours, was, like the varsity eight, a procession, with Harvard six full lengths ahead at the finish. The freshman effort was a mighty and splendid one up to the last eighth of a mile, when Harvard's superior staying powers, coupled with an unfortunate obstruction of the course of the Yale youngsters, by a large steamer, worked for Harvard's advantage and sent the 1902 men of Harvard across the line two lengths ahead of Yale. Both of these races were postponed from the forenoon and were rowed about an hour after they had been scheduled for the afternoon. There was little or no betting.

About a quarter past 6 o'clock the Yale crew left the float at Broadview, closely followed by the oarsmen of Harvard from Red Top. Ten minutes later the men had received their instructions from the referee, had backed into their positions at the start and were waiting for the word. With extreme caution Referee Medkleham asured himelf that both crews were ready, and with a last warming: "Are you ready?" fired the pistol shot which sent the two crews off in the big race of the day. The water was as calm and placid as an inland lake.

Yale caught the water first, but Harvard was a close second, and the two clists started out on their long journey, practically on even terms. The New Haven crew hit up a stroke of 37 to the minute, the men from Cambridge pulling beautifully at 36. Harvard continued rowing at 36 and Yale dropped her clip to the same figure, and with perfect rythm the two crews fell into strokes at unison. The eighteen brown backs came forward and backward together. The reach, the catch, the have and the recover were simultaneous in both shells, and as the two crafts sped on with noses and rudders exactly even, they looked as if they might have been mechanically connected and propelled by identical machinery.

Just before the first half mile was reached, Yale seemed to put hoore

Just before the first half mile was reached. Yale seemed to put more power into her stroke and gave the first intimation of an advantage. Harvard apparently paid no attention to this important change in positions, and rowed steadily on. Accordingly, at the

this important change in positions, and rowed steadily on. Accordingly, at the half-mile flag, the nose of the blue shell was a triffe in the van, giving Yale a lead of perhaps an eighth of a length. The first flag, however, had hardly been passed when Harvard spurted and Yale dropped her stroke one point, and the Harvard boat came up on Reaching down for the mile, the Yale coxawaln swerved slightly from his true course, and directly after the mile flag had been passed, Harvard took the lead, which she was not to surrender throughout the race. Reaching down for the mile, the Yale coxswain swerved slightly from his true course, and directly after the mile flag had been passed, Harvard took the lead, which she was not to surrender throughout the race. Yale, whose men had up to this point been rowing beautifully, indulged in a little freakly watermanship and Harvard stole away. During the next half mile the crimson-topped oars were sweeping gracefully through the water at a rate and a style which fairly lifted the shell from the water, and in this short stretch she increased her lead to a length. Looking down the courses, the Yale steerer saw his rivals steadily pulling from him, and he frantically called to his men to hit it up. They responded, and increased the rate two points, rowing 36 to the minute. Harvard ard, meanwhile, had been rowing steadily at 34, and, after watching Yale a few strokes, Capt. Higginson decided that a Harvard 34 was as telling as a Yale 36, and he refused to respond to Yale's spurt. At this point the Harvard men did the prettiest rowing of the day, and among those on board the observation boats, it was the opinion that no finer oar work had ever been seen on the Thames.

Notwithstanding Yale's speed and stroke, they found it impossible to overcome the Harvard lead. During this very spurt, the Harvard shell actually gained another half length, and proceeded to make it two full lengths in an amazingly short period. Yale temporarily surrendered and dropped from 36 to 32 strokes to the minute. While Harvard condescendingly lowered her stroke to 32. At the two-mile flag the Cambridge boat was fairly flying through the water, her oarsmen apparently rowing stronger. Yale was rowing well, and improved in the next half-mile flag it was Harvard's advantage by three clean lengths. Yale, with her traditional pluck, put in some arduous work, and undertook to fight bravely the fate that seemed certain. The race had gone too ered at and about the finish, the Harvard yacht swung jauntily, steadily pulling away from Yale. Reaching for the finish flags, the tide caught the Harvard shell and swerved it woefully. The little coxswain had his head about him, however, and with great skill worked his way back into line and shot down toward the judges boat. Here was witnessed wretched policing, many small boats hovering about the course. It cost Harrie is fraction of a length, perhaps, but Yafe, struggling along gamely, had a similar experience, and the disadvantages were even.

Harvard crossed the finish line in a whirlwind, reging beautifully, five and a half leastes to the good. Yale finished in fairly good shape, but her men were somewhat depressed. In terms of minutes, Harvard had won her grand race in 20m. 52½s., while Yale crossed the line in 21m. 13s.

The Associated Press time, taken from a telegraphic start and timed on the finish line by C. C. McConville, the coach of the Wisconsin crew, was 20m. coach of the Wisconsin crew, was 20m, 471/2s., and is believed to be the accurate time of Harvard's crew.

It was noticeable that the Yale men were no more enthusiastic than the Harvard men, and when the latter asked the small odds that naturally belong to a university whose crew has not won in six years, they were unable to get a bet. Even up seemed to be the principle. At haif-past 2 o'clock the wind had squared around to a dead north, and, blowing against the outgoing tide it made such a o'clock the wind had squared around to a dead north, and, blowing against the outgoing tide, it made such a mushy course that it was impossible to row the first race on time.

About 10:50 o'clock the freshmen crews reached the starting point, and twenty minutes later the referee ennounced that it had been decided to postpone the races as follows: Four-oared race at 3:30 p.m., starting at the head of the four-mile 'varsity course and rowing down the river to a point opposite the navy yard, a distance of two miles. Freshman race, 4 p.m., racing from a point opposite the navy yard at the two-mile mark of the 'varsity course, and finishing at the bridge, the end mark of the four-mile course, a distance of two miles. The 'varsity race, between 6 and 7 p.m., over the 'varsity course down the river. The wind holding from the same quarter as during the forenoon, both wind and tide would be with the crews.

The crowd took the postponement very good-naturedly, and the 600 people on the observation train seemed to believe that three races in a bunch would be more pleasing than if the original purpose had been carried out. The postponement of the races seemed to have no particular effect on the betting. There was some Yale money offered on the big race at 25 to 20 that Yale would win all races The professional stake-holder had $200 in his possession at 2 o'clock.

The Harvard 'varsity crew of this year is made up of men who have had much rowing experience, although only two of them, Capt. Higginson and Harding, the bow oarsman, have been members of previous 'varsity eights. Higginson was No. 4 and Harding was No. 5 in last year's big crew. Sheafe, No. 7; Bancroft, No. 6; Wood, No. 3 and Evans, No. 2 and all have had training on weld crews, the prolific source of nearly all Harvard rowing material. Lawrence and Tilton were No. 5 and 4, respectively, and have had good training with their class crews. A summary of the 'varsity crew follows:

Francis Lee Higginson Jr., '00, Boston, stroke and captain, was captain of his freshman crew, rowing No. 6 and stroke in the winning class crew in his sophomore year. He rewed No. 4 in the 'varsity last year and No. 7 in the winning age 21; height, 6ft. lin.; weight, 161.

The weather was bright, though the wicket was soft after a night's the wicket was soft after a night's rain, and favorable to the bowler. There were about 12,000 spectators present when the Australians went to the wicket. Very great interest is taken in the present match, owing to the poor showing made by the home team in the two previous matches, and the fact that the press and the cricketers of the whole country have been showering advice upon the Selection Committee regarding the choice of an eleven.

Capt. Brown And His Wife and Child Among Those who Perished-Vessel Was Loaded With Stone and This Shifted Position.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] CLEVELAND (O.,) June 29.—In the heavy northeast gale, last night, the steam barge Margaret Olwill, laden Olwill, laden with stone from Kelley's Island Cleveland, foundered in Lake Erie off Loraine.

Nine persons were drowned. Four members of the crew have been picked up by passing steamers and taken into port. From the reports of the survivors, the Olwill's cargo of stone shifted while the vessel was laboring in the trough of the sea. Shortly before she went down the rudder chains parted, allowing her to fall off into the trough. As the helpless craft rose on top of a heavy sea, the stone slid to leeward, the steamer listed heavily and sank. The cabins came loose from the hull of the barge, and floated on the water, while the rest of the ship went to the bottom.

The rescued members of the crew were floating on the surface of Lake Eric clinging to bits of wreckage. Their rescue was attended by exhibitions of extreme heroism, for a heavy sea was still running when they were picked up.

A Chicago dispatch says Capt. John Brown and his wife and child are among the lost. Nine persons were drowned. Four

He said: 'You know orders,' and four natives fell dead.' Cable the truth. [Signed] "KOHLSAAT." Commissioner Worcester's answer is as follows:

"MANILA, June 28, 1899.—Editor Times-Herald, Chicago: The original' statement of Brenner is untrue. Brenner's charge was promptly investigated by the military authorities here. No facts were ascertained to support the charge at the time of the first inquiry, but the investigation has been renewed, and is being prosecuted vigorously and extensively. This investigation has not yet been completed.

"Brenner's charge has some semblance of truth, for the reason that it is believed that two prisoners were shot in the heat of battle for refusing to pass to the rear. This matter is being probed to the bottom. It is an isolated case.

Welburn Jury Disagrees-Story of the Highbinder Fight at San Jose-Assessment of Refrigerator Cars.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

JEROME (Ariz.,) June 29.—Since last Associated Press dispatch Tuesday night, Jerome has been one scene of wild excitement without interruption. The great copper camp has not experienced such wild turmoil in its weird career, and men, women and children are contesting with the mine authorities for water to quench the thirst of the town. Those acquainted with the burning sun and dry winds of the Arizona desert can understand the disorder which had its incipiency with the breaking-out of the fire in the large reverberatory furnace at the smelter works of the United Verde Copper Company Tuesday night.

The reverberatory is one of the prin cipal buildings of the copper company, and within easy reach of every other building of the great plant. Twelve hundred men are employed on the ground and about the smelter, and this force of men fought the flames with a desperate courage born of a knowledge of the far-reaching consequence of the destruction of the propty. To the east of the reverberatory the smelter and the great copper furnaces: twenty feet north is is the smelter and the great copper furnaces; twenty feet north is the power-house with 12,000 square feet of floor space, covered with great Corliss engines, electric-light plant, etc., valued at $250,000. West are the coke bins, containing 9000 tons of coke, and above is the trestle works to the United Verde and Pacific Rallway, with a train of freight cars, one of which was loaded with giant powder. South were the offices of the company's officials.

The fire, at the start, proved to be master of the situation, and in a few minutes consumed the outer walls of the bins containing the coke, precipitating this mass of infiammable material into the flames. The great heat generated from this was something beyond the power of human beings to cope with. The flames spread to the trestle-work under the railroad and the string of cars thereon. The car loaded with powder was not thought of until the car next to it was on fire. A train crew took out an engine and went through the burning smoke and over the burning trestle to the car and pulled it safely out of harm's way, not, however, until the brakeman who coupled the car to the engine had his hair singed. Five minutes after the carload of powder was removed, the remaining cars fell on the fire below, utes after the carload of powder was removed, the remaining cars fell on the fire below, The company's officials were determined to save the power-house at all costs. To accomplish this they shut off all the water of the city, and 5000 people were without water in the driest climate in the world. To further aggravate their thirst the river can be seen flowing quietly at the foot of the mountain, seemingly not a quarter of a mile away. So clear is the atmosphere, but in reality it is seven miles away. The necessity of the action taken by the company was appreciated by the great majority, and the inconvenience and suffering was endured nerolcally, but the lawless element which is always found on such occasions, attempted to overpower the water man, who had charge of the valve to the water system leading to the town, and were only deterred by the timely assistance rendered by the owners of the mine.

The immense ricks of coke reach from the end of the company's offices past the side of the power-house, and it was realized that if the fire was not stopped before it reached this point, there would be nothing done in Jerome for many months. One hundred men, with short relays, went to work to make a break in the coke beyond the engine-room, and after ten hours' work they cut their way through, the fire being only eighteen inches behind them.

While the men were at this work, all their available water waters and the seals and th which the fire being only eighteen inches behind them.

While the men were at this work, all their available water was being thrown on the fire to check its burining. Two five-inch hose were played on it continuously. It was most touching to see strong men at the hose throwing water away while their wives and children stood near suffering for a drop to drink. No complaints were heard, however, from any of them, and a mighty cheer was given when a break was finally made in the coke, and it was realized that there was a good chance to save the mine and smelter.

While this contest was at its height, was realized that there was a good chance to save the mine and smelter. While this contest was at its height, tons of live coke fell through an open shaft to the 200-foot level, and before it could be removed a great volume of smoke rolled out of the mine. Volunteers were called for to go down and fight the fiames in the bowels of the earth, and the response was prompt and hearty. It was with the utmost difficulty that they made their way throuh the great shaft leading into the mine proper, as the fumes from the burning sulphur were almost overpowering. It took eight hours to get the fire in the mine under control.

Mr. Clark is so well pleased with the work done at the mine that he has given to Messrs. Giroux and Allen orders to have spread an immense banquet on the Fourth of July to celebrate the occasion, among the people.

State Board of Equalization Must Assess the Same.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, June 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At today's meeting of the State Board of Equalization, a verbal opinion was received from Atty.-Gen. Ford to the effect that the board, and not the county assessors, was the proper body to assess refrig-The board will act a upon this opinion, and has in-ted Secretary Coglan to write to the refrigerator-car companies and request from them a sworn statem milar to that furnished by the rail-ad companies. If this fails the board road companies. If this falls the board wil ask all railroads to furnish information regarding the whereabouts of refrigerator cars on their lines March 1.

March 1.

The board in this is acting under section 3864 of the Political Code, which requires all railroads to furnish "the number of each kind of all rolling stock used by such corporation, person or association in operating the entire railway, including the part within the State," also the "number," kind and value of rolling stock used in the State, owned by the party making the returns.

board declares that these and similar provisions of the Political Code are sufficient to cover the matter, and that refrigerator-car companies may be assessed this year. The board does not meet for the purpose of assessing railroads until the 17th of next month, and this gives it more than two weeks to get the information it desires.

While the opinion rendered by the Attorney-General is verbal, it is his intention to follow it in a few days with a written opinion, in which he will say it is the duty of the board to assess not only all refrigerator cars, but oil cars, both those used for home traffic and those owned by the Standard Oil Company; brewers' cars, stock cars, and all cars found in the State March 1st, owned by eastern

Members of the board appear to be much in earnest in their expressed intention to reach this class of prop-erty, which has heretofore gone untaxed, and if successful they will add an immense sum to the taxable wealth of the State. While some of the mem-bers feel that something can be done this year, there are others who feel that the car companies will adopt dilatory tactics in making the returns, which it seems, the law plainly compels them to make upon the request of the equalizers, and that the time remaining to the board is all too short in which to act. Those who feel this way, say that the property which has heretofore escaped will be discovered next year, at all events.

ASSESSMENT OF BONDS. SACRAMENTO. June 29.-At meeting of the State Board of Equali-zation today, a circular letter was is zation today, a circular letter was issued to all county assessors, authorizing them to assess all bonds (except United States bonds) in the hands of citizens and corporations. Assessor Ortman of San Joaquin county was present, and he got specific instructions to assess all such bonds in San Joaquin county.

The Attoney-General rendered an opinion by telephone, authorizing the board to assess all refrigerator cars and other rolling stock not devoted wholly to use in one county. July 10 the board will begin its inspection of the Santa Fé system, and property values in the South.

The court granted all the plaintiff banks an injunction which forbids the assessor from levying on the stock in question, or other property of the corporations, pending a hearing and final determination of the suits, both upon the law and facts.

WANTED AN INJECTION.

Waschendorf Makes a Spectacl of Himself at !Frisco. [ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.-Coro ner Hill began an inquest today into the death of John Kahlenbeck, who died last Monday morning from the effects of morphine, believed to have been administered by Dr. C. C. J. Waschendorf, Yesterday Chemists Crackbon and Morgan found considerable morphine in the stomach. Dr Waschendorf attended the inquest, in him.

Just about noon, Waschendorf collapsed. He fell to the floor and was almost in convulsions when picked up. He was taken into the inquest room, and the doctors applied an injection of cocaine. The drug revived him. As soon as his senses returned, he appealed pitecusly to the other doctors for an injection. He was given more, about twenty minutes after the first injection.

Dr. Fehlan, who was called in by Waschendorf to attend Kahlenbeck, was the most important witness. He testified that the deceased was in an extremely low condition, and that he administered injections of atrophine and strychnine. He left a supply of strychnine for Waschendorf to give the sick man. Dr. Fehlan returned to the house in the evening, and found that his instructions had not been carried out. Dr. Fehlan testified that when he remarked it was a serious case, Waschendorf remarked that he wanted Dr. Fehlan to "stand in with him in case anything serious should happen." Dr. Fehlan did not administrate ablorderm. Waschendorf administrate ablorderm. Waschendorf administrate ablorderm.

him in case anything serious should happen." Dr. Fehlan did not administer chloroform. Waschendorf admitted to him that he had given the sick man an injection of strychnine and morphine.

Dr. Crackbon testified that he found more morphine in the dead man's stomach than could be administered hypodermically.

William Terry testified that Kahlenbeck was in apparently good health the night previous to Dr. Fehlan's call; that the sick man and Waschendorf went walking, and that at midnight he (Terry) was informed of the serious condition of Kahlenbeck. He was excluded from the room during Waschendorf's treatment of the sick man.

an. George Fisher and Charles Musante, George Fisher and Charles Musante, clerks in the lodging-house, testified that Waschendorf acted queerly at times, and had administered morphine to some of the residents of the place. Fisher also told of conversations he had with Waschendorf regarding Kahlenbeck's money, and that the doctor had told Fisher that he/(Fisher) could have secured Kahlenbeck's money.

CHARGED WITH MURDER. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.-After SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—After being out half an hour the jury rendered a verdict finding that Kahlenbeck came to his death from narcotic poison administered by C. C. J. Waschendorf, who is formally charged with murder. The verdict was approved by the Coroner. The accused man fainted twice on his way to the City Hall to be booked for murder. He will be given a preliminary examination in a few days.

KILLED A "DUMMY."

Bloodless Murder Committed by

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN JOSE, June 29.—Deputy Sheriff Bache, who was shot in a desperate encounter which the officers had with a murderous gang of highbinders last night, is much better this morning. It has been found that his wound is only a flesh wound. The bullet turned and passed around, not going through the abdomen. With no unforeseen trouble he will be out in a few days.

he will be out in a few days.

The officers have four men in jail accused of the crime of last night. They are Chin Yung, Luie Sing, Wong Hing and an unknown. It seems to be rather doubtful if they can connect more than one man with the affair. Later investigations show that it was a plan to commit a cold-blooded murder. Wing Ho is the president of the local Hip Sing Tong. Fong Soon, another Hip Sing Tong man, was marked for death.

tice that a gang of highbinders were coming here from San Francisco to do the murder. The men marked for victims asked protection. The highbinders selected to do the deed arrived yesterday. The Sheriff determined on showing them a trick, so a 'dummy,' fixed up much like Wing Ho, was made and placed in the latter's bed. The officers concealed themselves in the room and awaited developments.

About 11 o'clock two men entered the room, while another stood guard at the door. All had on slippers. The two who first entered crept stealthily to Wing Ho's bed. The "dummy" was sleeping peacefully. Each man put a pistol to the head and fired. Before they could leave the room, the officers opened fire at close and deadly range. One man dropped, but got up, as was shown latter, and after a desperate battle, in which the officers fired some tenor fifteen shots, and the Chinese nearly as many, all the men got out of the room. The light went out at the first shot, and all was darkness. Bache said he had been shot, and there was some delay in looking after him, as it was believed he had been shot through the abdomen. This caused some delay in any arrests.

The officers say that the highbinders wore coats of mail. Right where the two men stood who shot the dummy were picked up three bullets. All bullets are battered and dented by contact with some hard substance which turned them. This explained why one or two dropped, but got up again. Bache is a dead shot, and he says he knows he hit the man he first shot at, for he could see him. Deputy Anderson, who used a 41-caliber pistol, says he hit his man, and he shows the battered bullet.

The affair has caused much excitement in the Chinese colony. Some time ago a man was shot mysteriously there. It is said he was shot by mistake, as the ball was aimed for the Hip Sing Tong president.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SACRAMENTO, June 29. - This afternoon a voluminous complaint was filed in the Superior Court of this county by Van R. Paterson of the firm of Paterson, Brown & Stack of San Francisco, in the case of D. O. Mills and Ogden Mills, trustees for holders of bonds upon the railroad properties of the Central Pacific Railroad Company, bonds upon the railroad properties of the Central Pacific Railroad Company, as plaintiffs, vs. the Central Pacific Railway, the United States of America, the Metropolitan Trust Company of New York and the Southern Pacific company as defendants. Justice Paterson, when asked for a statement as to the meaning of the suit, said:

"This action was brought to foreclose the llen of 'series A, of the first-mortgage bonds of the Central Pacific Railroad Company, issued July 25, 1885, to D. O. Mills and William E. Barron, as trustees. The face value of all the bonds secured by the mortgage is $6,718,000. The mortgage covers the properties of the Central Pacific Railroad Company from Sacramento to the eastern boundary of California. The bondsmatured July 1, 1895, but on April 27, 1895, the trustees, with the consent of the bondholders, extended the time of payment until January 1, 1898.

"August 5, 1897, a further extension of time was granted until the first day of December, 1898. The company having failed to make payment within the time stipulated, on June 21, 1899, the holders of more than fifty bonds requested the trustees to commence foreclosure proceedings."

GLANDS CONTAINED BACILLI.

Dr. Babata Believes the Drowne Japs Had the Plague.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Dr. Bahata bacteriologist of the Board of Health, has just returned a report of his examination of the glands of the two Japanese who were drowned while trying to escape from the steamer Nip-pon Maru, now held in quarantine on account of three suspicious deaths which occurred on the vessel on her trip from China and Japan to this port, which occurred on the vesser on her trip from China and Japan to this port, via Honolulu. Dr. Babata found the bacilli to be those of the bubonic plague, and to make his determination doubly sure will propagate their growth. The bodies of the Japanese were cremated, and Dr. Lawler, the Health Officer of this city, states that there is no danger of the disease breaking out in this city, as every precaution has been taken to prevent anything of the kind.

The passengers on board the Nippon Maru have telegraphed the Secretary of the Treasury protesting against their detention at the quarantine station, as they assert that there is no proof that the victims who died en route from the Orient were suffering from the plague. The local health officials, however, state that the passengers will not be released until there is absolute certainty that the disease does not exist on board the steamer.

Chicago Packers Don't Want Gutter Back-Henring of Idaho Cases, Tin-plate Mills to Shut Down.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

DETROIT (Mich.,) June 29 .- A com plete lockout is in effect, this afternoon, in Pingree & Smith's big shoe factory, which employs upward of 600 people. The trouble was forced by a strike this noon of employes of the turning and welt departments. Three weeks ago the factory started new machines in the shoe-turning department, which machines are operated partly by boys in place of men. The shoemakers' union declared that unless higher wages were paid in that department unward of a hundred men employed in the turning and welt department should quit today. The company an-nounced that if these men went out, the entire factory would shut down.

The employes also complain that

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) WALLACE (Idaho,) June 29. most important evidence in the removal cases against the county commons, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners. He testified that the board paid no attention to the matter of bonds in connection with fluquor licenses. They simply acted on bonds when offered.

April 26, Burbidge, manager of the Bunker Hill Company, telegraphed him that armed union miners were threatening to destroy the property of the company. Simmons called up the Sheriff, who said he had two deputies on the ground. He did not make any effort to call the board together. The Sheriff had asked for deputies at different times, and had been told to secure deputies when needed, and the county would pay for them, but the commissioners objected to having deputies in each town.

the masked men, who also shot these men.

"Porter called me up over the telephone April 26, telling me of the trouble. I went to Wardner next day and called at the Bunker Hill mine. I suggested to Manager Burbridge that he receive a committee from the miners. He said he would not recognize such a committee. I had instructed the deputies at Wardner to arrest all men found carrying guns.

"On April 25, while in the office at Wallace, Deputy Sheriff Seysler came in reporting that a trainload of armed men were at the station, evidently bound for Wardner. I closed the saloons there as soon as possible. By that time the masked men were lining up, after having unloaded a lot of powder in fifty-pound boxes. I pressed through the crowd and said: In the name of the Sheriff of Shoshone country and the people of Idaho I command you to disperse. Then some one called 'Wardner,' and the masked men struggled to get in line. One masked man told me he would tie me up if I did not quite interferings.

They paid a hontion to me. "They bail" to be the continuous as the arraed men-passed on toward the mill. When opposite the boarding-house a shot was fired from the hill back of the mill. When the firing ceased, the men brought Smith down dead. I went to lunch, and about that time I heard the shots which blew up the mill. We ran out and down to the mill, and the men were getting into the train, at the same time shooting freely. Then I heard another man had been shot."

He said further: "When I was put in prison, I had no information as to who was concerned in the riot. I believed it was Cañon Creek and Mullen miners, and all that was necessary was to put them under arrest to have the right men."

HIS WESTERN TRIP.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] CHICAGO, June 29.—The trial of August Becker, the South Side butcher, August Becker, the South Side butcher, charged with having murdered and then dismembered and burned the remains of his wife, in order to leave himself free to marry Ida Sutterlin, a seventeen-year-old girl, with whom he had become infatuated, came to a sudden end today, when it was found that the indictment named Mrs. Becker as Elizabeth when it should have been Theresa. The court at once nolle prossed the indictment.

The jury had been sworn in, and the defense asked for a discharge of the prisoner, on the ground that Becker had been placed in jeopardy, and therefore he could not be tried again. The court denied the request, however, and a bench warrant was issued and Becker rearrested. A new indictment will be at once drawn up. The discovery that the indictment was faulty created somewhat of a sensation in the courtroom.

The grand jury this afternoon voted another indictment against Becker. The jurors chosen to try Becker were kept together, and when the case is again called for trial tomorrow, nearly all of them will be retained.

EXPLOSIVES ARE TESTED. Army and Navy Officials Experiment at Sandy Hook.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] NEW YORK, June 29.—A dispatch to the Herald from Washington says that important tests with thorite, a new high explosive, are being con-ducted by the Board of Ordnance and Fortifications at the Sandy Hook prov-

Fortifications at the Sandy Hook proving grounds.

Little is known in the War Department of the characteristics of the high explosive. It is the invention of Prof. Tuttle of Oregon, who asserts that it is perfectly safe, and who was willing some weeks ago to put a red hot poker in a charge of thorite, declaring. It could be done without causing it to explode. It is believed to have picric acid as its base.

The tests of the explosive by the inventor are said to have been very satisfactory, and if may prove to be the material the army has been seeking.

Besides thorite, the Ordnance Depart-

Besides thorite, the Ordnance Department of the army has been experimenting with jovite, emmensite, and dry and wet gun cotton, paying more attention to the last-named explosive than to any other. So far none of them has given the results desired before adoption for service use.

Capt. William Crozier, military attaché of the American delegation to The Hague conference, was instructed several weeks ago to stop in England on his way home and ascertain if possible the ingredients of liddite, and the secret of the fuse used by Gen. Kitchner's army in the Soudan, with such excellent effect. It is untrue that he has been directed to contract for any quantity of the explosive.

Military officers in England have apparently been unable to secure all the information concerning the explosive the authorities would like to have. It is recalled that emmensite, discovered in and used by France, was kept secret, but this government finally obtaining information of its ingredients, and has been testing it for some years at Sandy Hook. Tests of novite were made by the army officials several years ago, and were not very successful. The Navy Department has tested jovite with considerable success, and if it keeps satisfactorily it may be adopted by the naval service.

of Deputies-Socialists Attack the [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.1 BRUSSELS, June 29.-[By Atlantic Cable.] The storm of verbosity was renewed in the Chamber of Deputies today. The Socialists hurled anathemas at M. J. Van der Feereboom, who endeavored to explain the action taken by the police yesterday, but the Socialists persistently interrupted and insulted the Premier, reproaching him with being responsible for conflicts beautiful to the premier. with being responsible for conflicts between the people and the police. Later it was announced that King Leopold had a long conference with Van der Peereboom, Bergerem and Bernaert.

The latter has been summoned from The Hague. It was reported that M. Van der Peereboom would resign.

At the conclusion of a great meeting in the town hall this evening thousands attempted to cross the Grande Place, in which the town hall stands. The gendarmee charged with drawn swords, and the crowd retailated with stones. Shots were fired on both sides. Three persons were wounded and a police officer was severely stabbed with a shoemaker's knife. The rioters on being dispersed assembled at another point. A large crowd gathered in the Rue Royale, tearing up the paving stones and using them as missiles. Finally the civic guard was ordered out to relieve the police.

Despite these attempts to suppress the disturbances, rioting continued to a late hour, many persons being injured. A tramway conductor received two bullet wounds. Ultimately the troops were called and thirty-five arrests were made, many of those taken into custody being in possession of revolvers. The public prosecutor with his entire staff, remains on permanent duty at the Hotel de Ville. It is rumored that one man, who was wounded has since died at the hospital.

The bill of M. Van der Peereboom seeks to perpetuate the clerical denomination of the country. It provides for a proportional representation in districts electing more than three members. The Liberals and Socialists realize that its effect would be to maintain the "Catholic representation in the smaller constituencies, and practically exclude the Liberals and Socialists from the larger districts. A new Bernaert ministry is predicted, as the outcome of the agitation. In many events the criss is one of the most serious that has occurred in Belgian history. The Liberals, being in the milnority in Parliament, abandoned the idea of fighting the bill by parliamentary methods, and started a campaign of obstruction.

Today the city wore a complete revolutionary aspect. Tramway cars were overturned and the dea of the horse of the civil guard asked-to be supplied with 15,000 cartridges. Street lamp

San Francisco Physician Writes of he Predicament and Says That Government Aid is Necessary. One Man Drowned.

United States Marshal Thinks In dians Murdered Crew and Passengers of the Steamer Jessie and Will Investigate.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29 .- The Associated Press received a letter from Dr. J. S. Stone, formerly a wellknown physician of this city, telling of the situation in the Kotzebue country. The letter is dated Kowak River, Alaska, mouth of Mauneluck River, January 1, 1899.

Dr. Stone says that 1500 men paid $200 passage money to Kotzebue, besides buying provisions, clothing, mining tools, etc., on the strength of circulars issued by certain transpor-tation companies, announcing "the richest gold fields in Alaska," and offering other inducements to secur on their lines. The circulars, writes Dr. Stone, were malicious lies, made out of whole cloth, and no gold has been found on Kotzebue Sound, or the Kowak, Notoark or Selawik rivers, which flow into Hotham Inlet, a part of the sound or any of their tributaries, in anything like paying quantities up to date. Other large rivers have bee prospected with no result. One thousunk this winter with no bed rock, or color being struck.

About the first of November a rush was started for the Allashook, a tributary of the Koyoukuk, on reports being received from there that gold was being found in enormous quantities. The hopeful prospectors, after journeying for sixteen days, cutting trails, dragging heavily-loaded sleds, with the thermometer registering from 45 to 60 deg. below zero, reached Beaver City, a settlement consisting of seven cabins, only to find the reports absolutely false. The report had been started by a merchant who had supplies to sell and by the recorder of claims. Reports from other rivers are just as discouraging.

Of the 1500 men probably half have returned. The remainder are there waiting for the ice to break up and for the possible arrival of a vessel to take them back to civilization. This country is cold and produces nothing to sustain life. Of the men who are there not fifty have the means to get away and must, unless the United States government sends one of its transports there, die of cold and starvation. One-half of the terrible sufferings of of the people in this district has not been told. The last news received from the States arrived on the steamer Grace Dollar, and the last papers received are dated June 20, 1898. We do not know whether we belong to Spain, Germany of the United States. Dr. Stone wishes the fact of the necessity of governmental aid impressed upon the people until the necessary aid is sent to the distressed Americans who were hoodwinked by the transportation companies.

NOTA CENT OF GOLD. NOT A CENT OF GOLD.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
SEATTLE (Wash.) June 29.—The latest advices from Kotzebue, Alaska, are given in a letter from Albert C. Thees, formerly of this city, who writes, under date of January 9, that not a bit of gold has been found where he wintered on the Ku-Buck River, and the question with the miners is how to get away. There were in camp twenty-three whites and twenty-eight natives opposite the mouth of the Hunt River. Not a cent of gold, says Thees, has been taken out of the whole country, and the miners consider they are entirely out of the mineral belt.

One man was drowned, having broken through the ice while hauling mail into the country from the coast. A good deal of "saiting" had been done that caused more or less excitement. Thees says the miners there expect to get out on the revenue cutter Bear. There are, he thinks, 700 people in the Kotzebue, 50 on Wick River, and 125 on the Noark.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE (Wash...) June 29.-United States Marshal Shoup of Alaska will investigate the death of the crew and passengers of the steamer Jessie, who either perished in the wreck of the ves-sel or were massacred by Alaskan Indians, on year ago on the Kuskukwim River. He will take a number of depu-ties and a detachment of sailors from the revenue cutter McCulloch to bring the revenue cutter McCulloch to bring all Indian suspects to Sitka for trial. There were eighteen persons on board the Jessie, and it was thought at first that they met death by drowning, but subsequent developments suggested a possibility that they reached shore and were murdered by Indians. Marshal Shoup believes they were murdered, Before leaving for Alaska today he said:

Before leaving for Alaska today he said:

"The Jessie had a great amount of whisky on board. The Indian pilot knew this. My theory of the case is that the whites fell in with a large party of Indians, who became troublesome. They were given whisky, and the other possessions of the prospectors led to the wholesale murder."

The persons constituting the expedition were: W. T. Reyton, R. T. Fryerson, Tennessee; Dr. Allen, Kentucky; A. T. Stetson, Kentucky; Harry Hedrem, Seattle; E. S. Lines, Connecticut; O. F. M. Amarud, Seattle; Engineer Kenster, George Wintchell, J. T. Murphy, Kentucky; Ell Knutson, Genesoe, Idaho; Clifford Hart, England; Japanese cook, Rev. Brewester and wife and two children.

LONDON, June 29.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Secretary of State for the Colo-nies Chamberlain and the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, received a deputation from the Beach, received a deputation from the Eastern Telegraph Company, this afternoon. The Marquis of Tweedale and others expressed objection to competition yith private enterprise, referring to the proposed Pacific Cable, and Sir Michael Hicks-Beach promised to furnish a written reply. In the mean time he reminded the deputation that the Pacific Cable project was not new, and was one the government had a perfect right to undertake.

Chamberlafn said that while customers justly complained of the present high rates, it was mainly for the sake of an all-British cable, connecting all ports of the empire, that the government entertained the present project.

The Marquis of Tweedale declared that the proposed cable would speedily lead to the ruin of the cable company that the delegation represented, and advanced the alternative plan of providing for the formation of a British imperial telegraph company to take over the securities of the present company, the stock of the new company being guaranteed by the government at 2½ per cent. Interest the largest reserve fund of the companies being used to lay the Pacific and other cables and the surplus revenue from the reduction of interest to be devoted to reducing rates and relieving the capital. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach said the best answer to the Marquis of Tweedale's alternative proposal was that neither India nor Australia were prepared to support it. The Chancellor of the Exchequer also entirely demurred from the objections raised, and strongly intimated that they were untenable. The Marquis of Tweedale declared

Three of the undisposed of impure milk cases which have been hanging fire in Justice Morgan's court for a month, came up again yesterday for trial. H. W. Lawrence and Mrs. H. A. A TEXAS ADMIRER.

What He Has to Say About Lo

What He Has to Say About Los Angeles.

A Texas man sends the following to his local paper, apropos of the forthcoming meeting of the National Educational Association in this city:

"The thirty-sixth annual meeting of this great educational gathering will convene in Los Angeles, Cal., July 11-14, inclusive. A distinguished president of this association once said: There is but one Chicago—the answer truthfully and in a higher degree may be given: There is but one Los Angeles—there is but one Pacific Coast; there is but one Pacific Coast; there is but one California. The object of this communication is to bring before the teachers, the educators, the tourists, the advantages of the trip. As a means of instruction the advantages are two-fold. First, the seeker of work—there are offered fifteen distinct departments. These departments have their senarate halls for meeting; each teacher or visitor can select that subject upon which he wishes instruction, and apply his time to it.

"Los Angeles is the lovellest city on the continent. Her hotels are better than the association has ever enjoyed at reasonable rates—the most reasonable, considering their services. The street-car rides—a half-day will take one through Fasadens to Mt. Willard, Mt. Royal and Lookout Mountain. If one goes to Los Angeles he is sure to go to San Francisco, but many go to San Francisco who do not see Southern California. No one should cross the continent without seeing the coast from Los Angeles to Seattle."

Pasquotank Perquimans. [Washington Star:] He was a little bit of a darkey, not much bigger than a lump of coal, and not much whiter, and when I called him up to do an er-

"What are you doing so far from home?"

"Doin' the best I kin, boss."

"How much have you made today?"
He stopped a moment to study.
"When I gets de 10 cents you's gwinter gib me." he said with a shrewd little smile—I had not agreed upon a price at all—"an' I gets 10-cents mo' f'um de nex' gem'man, it's make 20 cents, boss."

"Is that all? You can't live on 20 cents, boss."

A shadow, if a shadow could show there, came into the little black face, and with it a hard line of determination.

"I'se gotter lib, boss," he said. "I and with it is hard.

"I'se gotter lib, boss," he said. "I cain't die, fer dey ain't nobody but me ter take keer ob mammy, an' she's mightly po'ly mos' ob de time."

Possibly Pasquotank Perquimans was working on my sympathies and his story may have been told many times before, but I think not, and I know that his revenue for that day was more than 20 cents.

and when I called him up to do an errand for me across the street, his eyes snapped as if they were electrified.

"What is your name?" I inquired.

"Tank, boss," he answered, with a bow and a grin.

"That's a queer kind of a name. Your people aren't temperance folks, are they?"

"Deed, boss, I dunno. Dey calls me Tank, but my name's Pasquotank Perquimans."

"Oh." I laughed: "that's name enough for two kids like you. Where did you come from?"

IN THE LOS ANGELES TIMES.

OUR NEW WEST INDIAN ISLAND.

A birds-eye view of Uncle Sam's new Switzerland. Its climate and what it will do for broken-down business men. The smallpox and how our government wiped it out. 800,000 sore arms and how they were made. A visit to the biggest vaccine farm of the world.

HOW OUR WEST INDIAN SUBJECTS DO BUSINESS.

A look at the stores of Porto Rican cities. How goods are bought and sold. Clerks who work 15 hours a day at $6 a month. Among the peddlers. Queer ways of selling bread and meat. A look at the markets. UNCLE SAM'S PEONS.

How the poor work and starve in our West Indian Island. The human-caves of San Juan. Professorial beggars and the weekly beggar day. The poor of the plantations who are paid in tin disks and never see money. Starving children and banana-stomached bables. A striking picture of low life in Porto Rico.

PRETTY GIRLS BY THE ACRE.

How the belles of Porto Rico look, act and dress. High life in San Juan. The social season and the Governor-General's palace. How they keep house. Servant girls at $4 a month and house maids at 10 cents

UNCLE SAM'S COFFEE FIELDS.

He has 100,000 acres of them in Porto Rico. Plantations which pay $100,000 a year. The prices of lands, and something about the mortgaged estates. How coffee is grown. The coffee factories and the pretty coffee sorters. Shipping coffee, etc.

GAMBLING IN PORTO RICO.

Our West Indian subjects are great sports. Men and boys who bet on kites and marbles. Porto Rico's Monte Carlo. Cock-fighting and cock-fighters. Roosters worth $200. How they are trained. A visit to a cock-pit. A description of a famous fight.

OUR UNKNOWN ISLANDS.

Valuable bits of the West Indies which are now our's through Spain. A trip to the Island of Vieques. Something about its French and English population. The Island of the Dead Man's Chest, which contained a fortune in phosphates. Other phosphate islands worth millions. Mona Island and its wonderful caves. Also our new Mammoth Cave in the

A PORTO RICAN GRAVEYARD.

Queer features of death and burial in our new island. Rented graves and rented coffins. A Visit to San Juan Cemetery and a look at human bones. A dead baby's wake, Among the churches, and the field for missions. A peep into the schools and a talk with General Eaton. He has a scheme to bring some pretty Porto Rican School teachers to the United States.

IN THE MOUNTAINS OF PORTO RICO.

One hundred miles in our West Indies hills with government mules. A land of palms and bananas, where oranges cost 4 cents a dozen and cotton grows on trees. Queer features of life and man in our Switzerland of the Tropics.

UNCLE SAM IN PORTO RICO.

How our new island is being governed. All about our officials and what they are doing. The question of the franchise. Will Porto Ricans make American citizens? What Uncle Sam owns in Porto Rico. He has $$, 000,000, worth of buildings and 25,000 acres of land. Porto Rican crime and Porto Rican courts. Native police and our soldiers.

CHANCES FOR POOR MEN IN PORTO RICO.

A great future for small fruit farms. The oranges grow wild, and there is no frost. Cocoanut groves which net $1 a tree, and pineapples as big as a peck measure. The vegetable gardening for our big city markets. [This letter, showing what a man can do with a small amount of money in Porto Rico, will be interesting to thousands.]

OPPORTUNITIES FOR AMERICAN CAPITAL

A street railroad at San Juan. It has been bought by New York parties and will pay big dividends. The French railroad about the island. Chances for hotels. Cold storage plants and waterworks. Prominent Americans who have already invested in Porto Rico, etc., etc.

THE BIG FARMS OF PORTO RICO.

Sugar plantations which pay 25 per cent a year and are worth millions. How they are managed. The big stock farms and Porto Rican cattle. The island horses and how they will be improved. A look at the tobacco fields. Porto Rican cigars and Havana tobacco which goes to the United States from Porto Rico via Cuba.

The Chinese display promises to be the most unique feature of all the spectacles arranged for the delegates. A company of Chinese actors, with a full equipment of gorgeous costumes and traditional stage paraphernalia, will be brought from San Francisco for six performances, three in the evening and three in the afternoon, at Hazard's Pavilion. A display will also be made of Chinese industrial life, handicraftsmen of various trades being secured to ply their work in sight of the visitors. The dramatic performance and the industrial display will be free.

Wood was received that Dr. Emerson E. White, who is to speak at the opening session of the convention and again at a later session to lecture on "Character," will arrive on July 8, from his home in Columbus, O. The business headquarters of the National Educational Association were opened yesterday at Nos. 425 and 429 South Spring street. Chairman Anderson of the Hotel Committee and a staff of clerks will be in constant attendance from this time ion. The branch National Educational Association postoffice will be opened there early next week. It is at the business headquarters that all the work will be done of finding accommodations for tourists, taking care of baggage, attending to railroad tickets and similar matters concerned with the creature comforts and the means of travel of the delegates.

Today will bring probably 400 people into Los Angeles from the East. At 7:30 o'clock this morning a special train over the Santa Fé will land 125 people, the regular train, due an hour later, will bring all it can carry, and altogether the Santa Fé alone is expected to bring at least 325 easterners into the city today.

From this time on Chairman C. B. Boothe of the Railway and Excursion Committee, expects to be kept informed of the number of excursionists who may be expected daily. The totals will be telegraphed to him and also information concerning the starting points of the various delegations. The local officers of the National Educational Association will be kept informed from six to twenty-four hours ahead of the people who are due, and this will greatly facilitate the work of preparing to receive the visitors.

The search for subscriptions was not very successful yesterday, only about $30 being added to the fund. The commercial interests have responded liberally, but property-owners have not been correspondingly liberal.

SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Commencement Exercises of Catholic commencement exercises of the Sisters' School, on Seventh street and Boyle avenue, were held yesterday afternoon in the sohool hall, which was decorated with wild flowers and roses. A screen of evergreens, relieved by yellow daisies and crossed American flags, was formed back of the stage. The children, to the number of nearly four hundred, filed in to the music of two planos and an orchestra and were seated on the right side of the hall, which was reserved for them. The remaining space was crowded by the friends of the school. Seats of honor were reserved for Bishop Montgomery of the Southern California diocese, Rt. Rev. J. Adam, V.G.; Rt. Rev. J. A. Linn, president of St. Vincent College, and Fathers Fareley, Doyle, O'Regan, Healy, Helinski, McCabe and Maloney. Sisters' School, on Seventh street and

College, and Fathers Fareley, Doyle, o'Regan, Healy, Helinski, McCabe and Maloney.

The programme opened with a hymn, "Laudate Pueri," sung by thirty-four voices. This was followed by a drill entitled "A Pink Tea Perty," executed by forty-six little tots from 4 to 7 years of age. The wee little girls were all dressed in white and one-half had pink and the other half blue bows tied in their hair. Without a mistake or halt they went through the somewhat intricate drill and no one to look at them would have surmised from the bright, smiling faces that the greater part of them were without father or mother and dependent upon charity. The vocal class of sixty-four maiden voices next rendered a selection, "Where the Wild Flowers Bloom."

The Delsart class of twenty-four members gave a bell drill to the music of a violin and plano. Each dainty miss was dressed in white with a blue sash belt, from which hung streamers of blue ribbon holding silver bells. Around each brow was a circlet of blue ribbon surmounted by a star, and each girl carried dainty sounding "dumb" bells. Thus arrayed they went through the mazes of the drill and a Virginia reel and finished by singing in chorus a selection entitled "Happy Bells." A vocal duet, "Merry Minstrels," was sung by Mieses L. Borneman and V. Howell. Miss Ethel Sweeney recited, the "Legend of the Bells," and was followed entitled "Happy Bells." A vocal duet, "Merry Minstrels," was sung by Misses L. Borneman and V. Howell. Miss Ethel Sweeney recited, the "Legend of the Bells," and was followed in pantomine by twenty-three members of the Junior closs.

"Awake, Sweet Music!" was sung by a chorus of twenty-seven voices from the senior class, after which twenty-four little midgets recited in unison a selection called "Bible in School." A tennis drill was executed with precision by twenty-four young girls. Each had a tennis racquet tied with large butterfly bows of red ribbon, with which a number of graceful movements were performed. After a selection by the orchestra and the singing of "Columbja" by a chorus, Miss Charlotte Workman, one of the two graduates, read a selection in which she was followed in pantomine by fifteen young ladies.

A chorus of fifty voices gave a selection and Miss N. Catherine Sullivan, also of the graduating class, read an essay carrying out the spirit of the motto, "Mactae Virtute et Scientia." Bishop Montgomery, presented the graduation medal and the crown of laurel to the two graduates and gave a short address on school work. The exercises were concluded with the rendition of "Home. Sweet Home" by the chorus. Prof. J. W. Gardiner and Miss Kittie Bell acted as accompanists, and the music thus afforded was the only direction given the small children in their long and sometimes intricate drills.

THE WORLD'S GREAT COMMERCIAL PRODUCTS

VII.-COFFEE.

The world's total annual production of coffee, available to international commerce foots up to very nearly the enormous amount of 1,500,000,000

tion Brazil is the contributor of twothirds, while America as a whole (North and South) is a contributor of over five-sixths.

Yet coffee, the cultivated sort, is not indigenous to America, and what is more remarkable, the total coffee growth of the continent is the offspring of a single imported tree or shrub. The history (is interesting, Down to nearly the end of the seventeenth century the only source of coffee supply in the world was Arabia. In the year 1690 Gov.-Gen. Van Hoorne of the Dutch East Indies obtained from some traders a few coffee seeds that had come from Arabia. These he planted in his garden in Batavia, in Java. Very soon the cultivation of coffee became general throughout Java; and from Java it soon spread to other Dutch possessions in the east, especially Ceylon. One of the first plants produced in Java was sent by Van Hoorne to Holland as a present to the governor of the Dutch East India Company. This was planted in the botanic garden at Amsterdam.
Shortly afterward young plants obtained from seeds borne by Van Hoorne's plant were sent to Surinam
(Guiana.) a Dutch possession in South America. In 1718 the cultivation of coffee was well established in Surinam. Shortly afterward coffee plants from Surinam were introduced into the West Indies. From the West Indies the culture extended to Central America, Mexico, Venezuela and northern Brazil and other countries on the continent. Finally, about the middle of the last century, it was introduced into that portion of Brazil—the districts

ern Brazil and other countries on the continent. Finally, about the middle of the last century, it was introduced into that portion of Brazil—the districts about Rio and Santos—where it has since been prosecuted so advantage-about Rio and Santos—where it has since been prosecuted so advantageously.

Thus from a single plant sent to Holland from Java has developed the culture that now provides five-sixths of the coffee of the world. There must be on the American continent and in the West Indies, at least 1,500,000,000 coffee trees descended from that one plant. And from the few seeds obtained by Gov. Van Hoorne in 1690 has developed practically the whole of the coffee culture of the world outside of Arabia and Africa.

Although the botanical name of the coffee tree of cultivation is "coffea arabica," Arabia is not the indigenous home of coffee. The primeval habitat of the coffee tree is supposed to have been Abyssinia, in which country it is still found wild. Coffee is also supposed to have been used from a most remote period as a beverage in Abyssimia. But Abyssinia is near Arabia, and early in the fifteenth century coffee was introduced into Arabia, where since 4ts first introduction it has been grown with a perfection that elsewhere seems unattainable. In Arabia, too, the preparation of coffee as a beverage, it is said, exceeds in perfection its preparation
in all other countries.

The use of coffee in other countries than Arabia developed somewhat slowly. In western Europe the Dutch were the first people to become fond of

in all other countries.

The use of coffee in other countries than Arabia developed somewhat slowly. In western Europe the Dutch were the first people to become fond of it. This, no doubt, was because of the fact that as we have seen coffee was early cultivated in the Dutch colonies of the east. The Dutch early became, and have ever since remained, the greatest coffee drinkers in the world. In eastern Europe, even before it was known in the west, a knowledge of the use of coffee was obtained from the Arabians by the Turks. It was in this way that it got into England. In the middle of the seventeenth century a Turkey merchant of London named Edwards brought some coffee home with him, and introduced it to his friends. The first coffee house in London was opened in 1652 by a servant of Edwards.

Though at first the London coffee and introduced it to his friends. The first coffee house in London was opened in 1652 by a servant of Edwards.

Though at first the London coffee houses met with much opposition from the government, by the end of the century they became the most popular places of entertainment that Londoners frequented. By the beginning of the eighteenth century the use of coffee as a beverage was pretty general throughout Europe. In this respect in point of time coffee preceded tea. Tea was a novelty in England long after the common use of coffee was well established. But by the beginning of the eighteenth century tea, as well as coffee, was a considerable article of import. This was so not only in England, but in Europe generally.

With respect to the use of these two beverages, coffee and tea, it is worthy of note that habits seem to be national. The English are tea drinkers rather than coffee drinkers. So, too, in the upper classes, are the Russians even more emphatically than the English. Elsewhere in Europe the nations are coffee drinkers. Especially is this so with respect to Holland. Denmark, Belgium, Switzerland, France and Germany. The great colonies of Great Britain, Australia and Canada, on the other hand, are tea-drinking nations. But the United States is a coffee-drinking nation, in respect to total consumption by far the greatest in the world. But in regard to teadrinking the United States holds a very unimportant position indeed.

A few figures will emphasize these statements:

ANNUAL CONSUMPTION OF

ANNUAL CONSUMPTION OF COFFE PER UNIT OF POPULA-TION.

Lbs. Lbs. 23.12 France ... 3.31 ... 3.43 Austria-Hungary 2.00 ... 11.45 Italy ... 1.06 ... 11.00 Great Britain ... 68 7.00 Spain ... 55 4.57 Russia ... 18 er hand. Great Britain ... 18 Belgium 11.00 Great Britain 88
Switzerland 7.700 Spain 56
Gemany 4.87 Russia 1.85
On the other hand, Great Britain consumes, per unit of population, 5.50 pounds of tea annually: Australia, the same amount, and Canada, 4.37 pounds;
while the annual consumption of tea in the United States, per unit of population (taking the importation for the year 1898 as a basis) is only 91 pounds.
Theoretically speaking, coffee can be grown over a very large-portion of the earth's surface, for its main requisites are warmth, moisture and a soil rich in vegetable matterior equisites that are obtainable throughout the torrid zone generally, and even beyond it. But in actual practice, because of conditions necessary to commercial success, the cultivation of coffee is confined to very small areas. In Arabia, for example, it is only the province of Yemen where coffee is grown. But in Yemen the conditions are almost ideal.
The coffee plantations are situated on slopes that rise to some elevation above the sea, and are at some distance from
it. During the day thick mists ascend from the low coast regions, which, spreading over the plantations in the uplands, protect them from the flerce heat of the sun. As the heat dimin-Belgium ...... Switzerland ...

ishes the mists disappear, and at night, when otherwise the coffee shrubs would suffer from the coolness, warm aira ascend from the coolness, warm aira ascend from the coolst regons and pass over the plantations. In this way the plantations are maintained at an equal temperature throughout the twenty-four hours of the day. It is the house of the day is the finest in the world.

Elsewhere where coffee is grown artificial means have generally to be resorted to to obtain an equable temperature throughout the day. The most usual plan is to cultivate the coffee shrubs or trees under the shade of tailer trees that are better fitted to withstand heat than the coffee tree is, as, for example, bananas or cocoa trees, which is the practice in Brazil. (Note—Though naturally coffee would grow into trees from twenty-five to thirty-five feet in height, in practice it is never allowed to grow into more than shrubs from four to eight feet in height. This is in order that its fruit, a sort of berry, in size and appearance something like a cherry, may be easily gathered.) As a rule coffee plantations are on hillsides, at considerable distance above the level of the sea. On lower levels the heat would be too intense.

But the cultivation of coffee, even when natural conditions are favorable, requires great care and skill. So, too, do the processes of extracting the seeds, or "beans," as they are called, from the fruit, and preparing them for market. Inasmuch as coffee is generally produced in countries where labority untrained, unintelligent and indifferent, there are many parts of the processes of cultivation and preparation where machinery is impossible. But there are many parts of the processes of cultivation and preparation where machinery is mossible. But there are many parts of the processes of cultivation and preparation where machinery is mossible, and it is in these very parts that the quality of the product is most likely to be deteriorated. This is one reason why so much of the coffee of commerce is of infectior qualit vation is wholly confined to these small favorable districts, and notwithstanding the fact that all possible use is made of machinery instead of unintelligent hand labor, and that every other possible means is taken to obtain a product of the best quality, the reputation which Brazilian coffee holds in the markets of the world is that its quality is inferior to all others. It is thus seen how greatly both natural situation and the quality of the labor applied affect the quality of the coffee product all the world over. It is but fair to state, however, with regard to Brazilian coffee, that the prejudices of the world against it, once so hurtful to its popularity, have in recent years been greatly diminished.

Speaking generally, no American coffees rank with Asiatic coffees, although the best coffee of Central America always bring good prices. But among those accustomed to use real Mocha coffee the coffee of India is considered in no way superior to the best American coffees, especially those of Central America. In the opinion of the Arabians themselves, the best coffee in the world, after that of Arabia, comes from Abyssinia.

the best coffee in the world, after that of Arabia, comes from Abyssinia. Note—Returns now complete, show that the world's coffee production for 1898 amounted to over 2,000,000,000 pounds. This is 25 per cent. more than the production for 1897, and more than 50 per cent in excess of the production for 1896. The proportion of this amount contributed by Brazil was over 70 per cent. In consequence of this great increase of production the this great increase of production the price of "good average" coffee in the world's markets for 1898 was not more than two-thirds what it was in 1897, and not more than four-ninths what it was in 1896.

CUMNOCK SCHOOL EXERCISES, Young Women Awarded Certificates to Teach Oratory.

The commencement exercises of the Cumnock School of Oratory were held in Blanchard's Hall yesterday morning. The following-named received diplomas: Misses Lulu Kate Botsford, Bessie Boals Burr, Anna Elizabe Healy, Mary Helen Meany, Ruth Messmore, Eva Faustine McClure, Margaret Pauline Speed, Louise Woodward, Alice Cary Williamson and Lil-lian Sarah York.

The programme opened with music by Miss Blanche Rogers, piano; Russell H. Ballard, 'cello, and Arthur M. Perry, violin. Addresses were made by Rev. Edward M. Meany, Mrs. Addie Murphy-Grigg and Mrs. Kate Tupper Galpin.

Says Clayton is Sound.

On Tuesday Dr. J. de Barth Shorb horsewhipped John J. Clayton in front of the Police Station, for alleged disrespectful use of his wife's name, and was fined $40, in addition to a fine of $10, imposed a few minutes before for disturbing the peace. The next day the statement was made, in connection with the case, that Clayton was a sick man and a poor physical wreck. To this Dr. Robert Dorsey, who says he has attended Clayton, objects. The physician says Clayton is perfectly healthy and sound, a fine specimen of physical manhood, and well able to work if he would. Dr. Dorsey makes the statement, and says he will prove it by any number of physicians that Clayton is not afflicted with heart disease, or any other physical ailment, but that he is robust, weighs 200 pounds, and has a physique which bears no little resemblance to that of the world's champion puglist.

MORE TROOPS FOR THE PHILIPPINES.

Information comes from Washington to the effect that a definite decion has been reached by the Presilent to continue recruiting men at all he recruiting stations for service in the Philippines, and that Gen. Otis is have at his disposal, by the end of e rainy season, an effective force of not less than 40,000 men. The entments, it is further stated, are to be for three years. This is well, if it e in accordance with the law authorzing an increase of the army, of which there appears to be some doubt At all events, inasmuch as the duraion of the troubles in the Philippine a matter of great uncertainty, the government ought to have at its dissal a force of trained soldiers suffilent to carry out whatever plans may that this force shall consist of mer willing to serve for a period of three erm of enlistment so low that a large amber might be released at a time me when they would be most valuable by reason of their military training. By fixing the term of enlistment at three years, the dissatisfaction and isappointment felt by some of the ears for the Spanish-American war will be avoided, and if the necessity for service should not continue so ng as three years, most of the men would doubtless be willing to leave the service sooner.

It is all-important that Gen. shall have all the men and all the equipment needed to carry out the ork with which he has been inrusted. Our government looks to himfor results, and it will not look in vain, provided he be furnished the sired—the complete suppression of he United States throughout the Phil-

We are "up against" that question in deadly earnest, and as Americans, who have faith in our country and its ability to meet and solve all the great problems which it encounters in the course of its history-making career, we must ice the situation loyally, manfully, and resolutely. ## FOR THIS RELIEF, THANKS.

Recent advices from Washington bring the important, if true, information that "the Schley-Sampson controversy is to be dropped." It is to be hoped that this information is true. It is further to be hoped that the Schley-Sampson or Sampson-Schley controversy will be dropped so far that it can never be fished up again upon any pretext or under any circumstances. If only they will drop it, we can stand the dull sickeningness of the thud with which it may reasonably be expected to strike bottom.

This alleged controversy has become weariness to the flesh. We have had much more than enough of it. We had too much of it at the moment when it was first sprung upon an unsuspecting and patient public. The pertinacity, and the devilish ingenuity, with which it has been kept before the public, and rammed down the gullet of the public, since that fateful time, has been enough to drive the average citizen to strong drink. Indeed, if the actual facts were known, it would probably be shown that no inconsiderable proportion of the intemperance which has prevailed throughout the United States and New Jersey during the past eight or ten months was due primarily to the inability of the average citizen to get away from the Schley-Sampson or Sampson-Schley controversy.

It has been, in short, a corker. Now that it is going to be "dropped," may perhaps be pardoned for this brief reference to a subject upon which silence is golden. Our remarks should be construed more in the spirit of an neans necessary to accomplish the end obituary than otherwise. The entire "controversy," in point of fact, has been a large-sized tempest in a smalllishment of the supreme authority of sized teapot. There is an abundance of evidence to show that both Sampson and Schley did their duty as brave men and able officers at Santiago. Whether Schley or Sampson is entitled to the larger share of the glory for that great victory, is a matter of but little consequence, since both men did their duty loyally. It appears to be of record that Schley, in the heat of conflict, casually remarked "Damn the Texas!" It is not of record, so far as has been developed, that Sampson said "damn" out loud at any stage of the fight. But this should not be laid up against Sampson, for it is a tolerably safe assumption, whether it be of record or not, that Sampson did actually say "damn"-or something even more emphatic-when he found that the fight had begun while he was several miles away. Honors are probably about even between the two commanders on that score, as they appear to be on every other score. If they are satisfied, everybody else should be

LIFE INSURANCE SURPLUS.

A decision in a case of great importance to life insurance companies and their patrons was recently affirmed by the New York Supreme Court on appeal. In this case, the plaintiff, who was a policy-holder in one of the largest and best-known life insurance companies of the United States, held what is known as a tontine policy, which matured in 1897. He received, as his share of the surplus, nearly $4000, and thereupon brought suit for over $7000 more, claiming that the directors were com pelled to divide the entire net surplus instead of dividing such portion as they thought fit. The New York Supreme Court does not decide the question as to whether the plaintiff is entitled to the additional share of the surplus, but that he is entitled to a hearing, which the company denied, claiming that by the terms of the policy the directors are empowered to distribute the surplus at their discretion. In rendering its decision the court says:

"If the surplus is not to be divided among those who have paid the premiums, but is to go eventually to the stockholders, the institution is builded upon a false pretense, for it has held out to its policy-holders the promise that this fund should be distributed among them, and it has avoided its taxes to the State upon the proposition that the fund was held for the exclusive benefit of the assured.'

Three of the justices united in the prevailing opinion, one dissented, and one did not participate. As might be expected, the insurance companies are somewhat worked up over this decision, which will involve important consequences to them should it be finally sustained, as in that case the hundreds of millions of dollars of surplus now reserved by the life insurance societies and endowment associations must be divided among the policy-holders.

Some time since a trolley line was established in Seoul, the capital of Korea, but the cars were not outfitted with fenders. Because of the lack of these safeguards a number of children were run over and killed, just as children are killed here in America. On May 26 last, another child was killed by a trolley car, which brought matters to a climax. A mob of between four and five hundred Korean gathered. Two cars were found together and these were surrounded by the rioters, who were greatly excited. They killed those in charge of the cars, and, after smashing the cars, piled the débris in a heap and destroved it by fire. The mob then went to where the remaining cars were and destroyed them, one after another, including the Emperor's car. The road had been opened but two weeks when the riot occurred. Upon reading this tale of destruction and death one is almost forced to the conclusion that had the company operating the Seoul trolley line spent a few dollars for fenders at the outset the concert would have been a good many thousands of dollars ahead at this writing

San Francisco has a big scandal in connection with its Fourth of July celebration and it is all about a "rakeoff." As the story goes, John M Chretien called upon A. S. Robinson's "influence" in getting the fireworks exhibition Glen Park. Mr. Baldwin refused to be bled in any such raw manner as this, and wrote a letter to Col. Robinson which has been given out to the press and which recites the statement made above. It is a very disgusting, unnatriotic and contemptible piece of business, but it is along the lines of Buckley and Burns politics in San Francisco, with which the State is all too familiar. Mr. Baldwin is to be commended for exposing the rascally

There was a race riot at Cardiff Ala., a few days, but we notice that when the battle was over three negroes were found to be killed and two wounded the white men having come off unscathed. It is an extraordinary fact that in nearly all contests of this sort in the South the fatalities are confined to the black race, and in the particular case referred to above all the dead and wounded negroes were shot in the back. Considering all these things, it must be agreed that these southern race conflicts are confined to cases in which the whites do all the killing, the blacks confining their attention to an attempt to get out of range. The country has nothing to be proud of in contemplating this condition of affairs, to say the

An accumulation of $584.966 in the municipal treasury of Havana has filled the people of that city with surprise, but then they should remember that during the 400 years of Spanish rule Havana has always had a Weyler fully competent to blow in the surplus, whereas, at this time the affairs of the municipality are being conducted by American soldiers and American methods. While the latter are not always the best methods, as American municipalities know to their sorrow, they are certainly an improvement on the methods of Weylerism which means: Take everything in

A Hartford reporter makes out Jeffries to be a holy human terror, according to his pen picture, which is as follows: "His crouching, tigerish attitude, menacing eyes, sunk under black beetle brows, and his shifty motions must be anything but inviting to face. The members of the senior class in the commercial course of the High School, having successfully com-pleted the three years' course of study, were awarded their diplomas last evening at Eiks' Hail on Spring street. The front of the stage was banked with bouquets and baskets, the gifts of admiring friends, while potted palms and gracefully-draped American flags helped to complete the decorations. In the center of the stage was an eagle with wings outspread, grasping in its talons streamers of gold and blue ribbon, the colors of the commercial school. The decorations reflected great credit upon the efforts of the senior B class, who had them in charge.

Upon the platform were seated the graduating class of sixteen, the speakers of the evening, Principal W. H. Houeh, and members of the Board of Education. In her opinion women did not wish to be enfranchised, and swere not only better off in the home, but that the domestic sphere offered the gentler sex a larger opportunity to do good. What we need is not more voters, but a better class of them. This can be better obtained by restricting than by expanding the franchise. The part that women play in the world cannot be taken by any one else, and, if they attempt to assume the duties of men, necessarily some of their most sacred ones must be neglected. The government rests on the family, and it is in this sphere that women find their highest calling.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] WASHINGTON, June 29.—The new regulations, prescribing the uniforms of naval officers, have been issued. of naval olineers, have been issued. Few material changes are made in the existing dress, but, for the first time in many years, provision has had to be made for distinguishing the admiral from other officers, and while Admiral Dewey's modesty will not be shocked by a revival of the gorgeous raiment of the officer of that grade, he will be conspicuous enough to satisfy most of his admirers. He will not need to make many alterations in the eight costumes he must wear on various occasions, but his epaulets, sleeve ornaments, collar devices and cocked hat, will have to be specially manufactured before he passes Gibraltar, for the regulations, which were approved May 8, go into effect practically as soon as they are received by officers and the copies have been mailed. admiral from other officers, and while

A rear-admiral will have only one two-inch stripe, with a half-inch stripe just above it. Captains have four of the half-inch stripes, and ensigns have one.

The epaulets of all flag officers are the same, but those of the admiral are embellished with four silver stars of five rays each, placed equal distance from each other in the middle of the strap or frog of the epaulet, with a gold foul-anchor, one and one half inches long, under each of the two outer stars, while rear-admirais have only two stars, one near each end have only two stars, one near each end

On each side of his collar the admiral will wear four silver stars, with a gold foul-anchor under the outer stars. Rear-admirals have two silver stars and a silver foul-anchor.

The cocked hat of the admiral will have a strip of two-inch gold lace laid on flat around the outer rim of the fans, passing under the peaks. For rear-admirals the gold lace is half an inch narrower. Rear-admirals are entitled to half the width of gold on the same belt.

The cap for the admiral is exactly the same as that for rear-admirals, and his coat, waistcoat, trousers, mackintosh, overcoat, cloak, cravat, scarf, shoes, rubber boots, shirts, collar and gloves are the same as for all commissioned officers in the navy. His cravat is black ribbed silk, not more than 36 nor less than 22 inches long, not more than one and one-quarter inches, nor less than three-quarters of an inch wide, tied in a double bow knot in front. His shoes, high or low, shall be of black calfskin or patent leather, but in warm weather, with white trousers, plain white shoes of canvas or buckskin or ruset leather shoes are allowable when service dress is worn. Only plain bosomed white shirts are permitted when coats are worn open.

fficer of the Salvation Army of the United States, spent yesterday in Los Angeles. Although a sick man, deeply in need of rest, he refused to spare himself. All day long he went about, preaching in the Army halls, keenly noting the condition of affairs, giving a needed hint here and an inspring word there; when night came he spoke for an hour and a half before a great with a smile the physical which he was enduring. Today he will visit the Salvation Army's new rescue home for fallen women, and at noon depart for San Francisco, there to begin again his tireless labors, in the great summer camp-meeting of the glimpse of the Salvation Army Southern California, to lend the inspiration of his presence and of his practical experience, and to speak to public of the work of the the black sheep." Himself the son-in-law of Gen. Booth, the originator of the Salvation Army, he has spent many years in spreading the organization through the country, until now there are over 700 corps. His home and the center of his work is in New York, but much of his time is spent in jour neying about the country. His wife, Consul Booth-Tucker, was in Los An-geles recently, on a similar mission. Consul Booth-Tucker, was in Los Angeles recently, on a similar mission.

The crowd which sweltered in the First Congregational Church for the evening meeting was a composite mass of red-shirted Salvation soldiers, lasses with tambourines and packages of "War Cries," clergymen from many churches, people interested in charitable and social work, and hearers drawn by curiosity. President W. C. Patterson of the Los Angeles National Bank introduced the speaker of the evening, and the salvation Army band furnished the music for the hymns.

When the meeting was about to begin, it was doubtful whether Commander Booth-Tucker would be able to speak. At all times his health is not the most robust, but at present he is suffering from the results of an accident. Last Saturday at Dodge City, Kan., he addressed a crowd of people in the railroad yards. He stayed a moment too long, and to catch his train it was necessary to swing thimself up on the platform of the last car. In so doing he dislocated a bone in his left arm. The surgeons told him that he ought to go to bed, but he declared that he could not possibly cut short his trip or fail to keep the dates he had made.

Or arriving in the city yesterday morning he was taken to the Young Women's Home, where he met a number of people; he spoke at the Salvation Army Hall on San Pedro street, attended a dinner held in his honor at the Salvation Army headquarters on Spring street, spoke again at an afternoon meeting there, went to his roomand collapsed. By the time evening had come he had pulled himself together again, but even after arriving at the church he was doubtful whether he could speak at any length. When he had once fairly started, any note of physical weakness left his voice, he straightened up, and no one in the audience without previous knowledge of his condition could have guessed how unfit for speaking he really was.

The address was sane, healthy and hopeful. There was none of the revival flavor usual to Salvation Army speeches. It was primarily a discussion of soc speaker's voice, sendom raised above easy, almost conersational tone; excellence of his English, the apt of his anecdotes—not stock stories, tales from abundant experience and the poor—and the sincere enthus of manner and tone made the addraw talling.

of manner and tone made the address very telling.

Mr. Patterson spoke briefly, but cordially, in introducing Commander Booth-Tucker. He commended the faith and courage of the Salvation Army, and said that it was a "horizontal Christianity," not limiting itself to a narrow swath, but taking in all humanity. Commander Booth-Tucker's address in part was as follows:

"There are four foundation stones on which society rests—religion, work, the home, and virtue. If those are weakened, the edifice totters. Churchlessness, worklessness, and worth-the working class are without a church. It is not so bad as this in our country, but are not many of our churches empty, and are not many which are not empty filled but once a week? Does not that pillar of civilization need looking after? We must stem the tide of churchlessness—of abandonment of God.

"The Salvation Army has proven that religion can be made so attractive that working people will like it. Many of the people who come to our meetings say that they are not converted, but they add that they are changed from what they used to be, and that they have a new hope.

"Times are good new, but our institutions for the poor are as full as ever. A labor report published in New York states that a certain number of labor unions had been asked to report the amount of work that was being done by their members. The answer was that during March 13 per cent. or their members were unemployed. Of those employed, only 32 per cent. overtime, and the average pay received was under $2.

"If in good times that is the condition, ought we not to prepare for worse times that every thoughtful man must expect some time to follow?

"Homelessness is a serious problem. A single man or woman can find employment more easily than a married man, and can afford to work for less. Often in the bis cities when a mar school without having had enough to eat at home and without bringing sufficient lunch. In such schools the teachers devise all manner of little plots to feed the children without making them lose their self-respect. I hope that in the big educational convention to be held here that problem may be discussed. It is very difficult for poor children to grow up goodeven to grow up clean.

"On March 1 last, the Salvation Army had 141 institutions for the reclamation of the poor. During that month 6000 persons were given beds every night, and during the month 103,000 meals were served. Work was secured for 4800 persons. The annual cost of such work is about $160,000.

Of that sum $150,000 was contributed by the people helped. These men pay what they can, and after we have set them on their feet they help us to help others, as they have been helped. In Chicago we have a salvage brigade which employs between fifty and 100 men all the time, gathering rags and paper, and other junk, and the enterprise means a profit of $230 a week. We have a Salvation Army junk shop. We have for orphan asylums, our selevators, our orphan asylums, our selevators, our orphan asylums, our selevators, our orphan asylums, our sesue homes. In our 100 rescue homes 5000 women are sheltered every year, and of those who have come to us for aid, between 70 and 80 per cent. have been permanently redeemed.

"The chief remedy which we propose for sociological difficulties is to make men self-supporting. Our main hope for this is our farm colonies. We have demonstrated that when surplus families are placed on surplus land they stay, and work and thrive, and become self-supporting. Our town site at Amity, Colo., cost us $7000, and is now worth $100,000. There is a happy community there of 150 and become self-supporting. Our town site at Amity, Colo., cost us $7000, and is now worth $100,000. There stown, and is now worth $100,000. There is a happy community there of 150 people, each family having a tenacre farm, horses, cows, chickens, and farm implements. Why shouldn't this thing be done by the wholesale? Let each one of us say: 'I will do my part toward the reclamation and the renovation of the masses.'"

In speaking of it, one of the chief men who took part in the deliberations said yesterday that the purpose of the association is above all to take care of convention matters, in the way of or convention matters, in the way of securing all of these meetings possible for the Coast. There will be one next year, and one in 1901, which will bring perhaps 40,000 each to the Coast. The National Educational Association meeting has been an object lesson. The railroads make the rates on which these conventions come here, and then scalpers, brokers, and small roads get and do all sorts of cutting to get men and the big trunk lines will get in and with the aid of the press and organized public sentiment, work to get all the conventions to be had fo the Coast.

The other object of the association is to stop rate cutting, and all unfair ways of getting business in the traffic

The Santa Fé, in taking possession of the Valley road tomorrow will take all the business offering in this city for Bakersfield and Stockton and all points intermediate between these places. Business from that territory for Los Angeles will also be handled.

A. J. Stratton, Coast agent of the Chicago Northwestern, is here.

Prof. Marshall of Chicago will leave that city July 3, with a car full of people for the educational convention. The party will visit the Grand Cafon and reach here July 12.

Yesterday a party of seventeen went on from Flagstaff for the Cafion.

Miss Maude Scott entertained a few friends informally yesterday evening at her home, No. 629 South Hope street. Among her guests were several members of St. Paul's Church Orchestra, the evening was devoted to music and games. Louis Angeloty, the boy violinist, played several numbers. Miss Maude Scott, Miss Matilda Angeloty, Carl Angeloty, Sr., and Charles Douglass also contributed to the programme with selections. Beside those mentioned there were present: Mr. and Mrs. James Scott, Miss. Marguerite Rollins, Miss May Scott, and James Scott, Jr.

Mrs. Mark B. Lewis entertained a few members of Immanuel Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon with a thimble party at the home of her mother. Mrs. Howell. During the atternoon the guests were entertained with vocal numbers by Mrs. J. G. Scarborough and Mrs. Harralson, and Mrs. Aubrey Davisson read an original poem.

Miss Florence Jones and Milton Q. Stuard were married yesterday noon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Jones on Maple avenue. Rev. B. W. R. Tayler officiated and the service was witnessed only by relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Stuard left for the north, and upon their return they will be at home at No. 1536 West Twenty-eighth street.

Miss Mary Louise Page and Francis M. Bruner, M.D., were married at high noon Tuesday at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. H. P. Mathewson, Omaha Heights. Mission Boulevard. Rev. R. S. Cartine officiated. The drawing-room was handsomely decorated. The bride's gown was silk and wool, with pearl trimmings. Only relatives were present. Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. Dr. Bruner is the son of the late Prof. F. M. Today is the last day of the fiscal-year in city affairs, and tomorrow the standing accounts will be opened anew in all of the city departments. It will be a busy day in the City Hall. A special meeting of the Council will be Reid, at which the final ordinance for the proposed school-bond election will be adopted, and a number of important demands approved. The Board of Police Commissioners will meet to ap-prove the pay roll of the department and to take action with reference to the trouble between Chief Glass and Commissioner Scarborough. A special meeting of the Board of Fire Commissomers will be held this morning. The Board of Public Works and several committees of the Council will also hold morning sessions.

The Board of Park Commissioners will recommend to the Council that $1500 be appropriated for the improve-ment of the new park in the Sixth Ward. This amount is intended only to begin the improvements there, and is to be followed next year by a larger appropriation.

The annual report of the street department has been completed. It shows that the Street Superintendent saved a balance of nearly $14,000 from the total amount of his appropriation last year.

[AT THE CITY HALL.] LAST OF THE YEAR.

CITY ACCOUNTS TO BE CLOSED UP TODAY.

City Council, Police Commission Fire Commission and Other Department Annual Report Meeting of the Park Commission

The officers of the several city de partments will be kept unusually busy today closing up the business of the year, for this is the last day of the fiscal year. Tomorrow the accounts in the different offices will be opened anew and before today closes each of the departments will know just where it stands with reference to finances, for they are expected to later make a report upon the condition of affairs on today.

An adjourned session of the City Council will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock for the purpose of approving a large batch of demands which have not been acted upon. Another important matter which the Council will act upon is the final ordinance calling the special election at which the school bonds are to be voted. This ordinance has been prepared with the exception of the insertion of the names of a few of the election officers, and these will be supplied to the City Attorney this morning. One or two other matmorning. One or two other mat will also be considered by th ters will also be considered by the Council.

This morning the Board of Police Commissioners will hold an adjourned session, the primary purpose of which is to pass upon the police pay roll for June. By far the more important matter to the commission, however, is the settlement of the row which was precipitated by Chief Glass's attack upon Commissioner Scarborough at the regular meeting of the Commission Tuesday morning, and his remarks to the members of a citizens' committee who had appeared before that body to demand police protection. Just what will be done about this matter not even the members of the commission know. The Chief may apologize and he may not. If he does, he and Mr. Scarborough may "kiss and make will serve the commission was the server that the commission was the commission was server with the commission was server the commission was server to the commission was server the commission when the commission was server the commission which was server the commission which was server the commission where the commission was server the commission which w this matter not even the members of the commission know. The Chief may apologize and he may not. If he does, he and Mr. Scarborough may "kiss and make up" so far as the incident of last Tuesday is concerned, but even an soology will not entirely heal the wound. If an apology be made; it will probably have to be a public apology, and one may be demanded for the citizens' committee as well. If the Chief refuses to apologize, matters will be somewhat complicated.

It is known that friends of the Chief have been skirmishing around in his behalf. Several members of the City Council have been approached by his friends for the purpose of ascertaining how the members stand with reference to his action. Even Mr. Scarborough has been approached in an effort to settle the matter without further trouble. One of the Chief's friends said yesterday in the presence of one of the commissioners, not Mr. Scarborough, that but for the newspaper accounts of the trouble there would have been nothing thought of it. The commissioner replied that the newspapers had published only the facts.

The Board of Fire Commissioners will also hold a special meeting this morning for the purpose of approving the pay roll and transacting such other business as may come before it.

The Board of Public Works will also meet to take action on a number of petitions referred to it by the Council.

The work of hand-sweeping the streets in the business section of the city, which was suspended two months ago in order to curtail expenses, will be resumed tomorrow morning. The Council has allowed the street department only thirteen the street department only thirteen sweepers, but in order to have the streets as clean as possible during the coming convention Street Superintendent Drain will put on five additional men from his force of street-workers. The brooms, scoops and other tools needed by these men have been secured, and will be issued early tomorrow. The iron boxes purchased at the time that the hand-sweeping was begun, several months ago, are to be used for the first time. These boxes are intended for street sweepings only and as these is an ordinance against merchants filling the Boxes with waste paper and other rubbish, such use of the boxes will not be permitted. The annual allowance for hand street sweeping has not been allowed as yet, but when that matter is reached by the Finance Committee in the preparation of the annual financial budget, it is almost certain that a suitable amount will be allowed to keep the men at work throughout the year.

AN EXCELLENT SHOWING.

Street Department Keeps Far Within Its Appropriation.

The annual report of the street department for the fiscal year closing today is the first of any of those in the city departments to be completed. As all of the bills for this month were filed yesterday, it was possible to get the report out before the close of the fiscal year. The department makes an excellent showing for the whole year, the expenses having been kept nearly $14,000 under the appro-priation, leaving that amount for use during the next year. The report shows the following receipts and ex-nenditures:

penditures:	Allowed.	Expended.	Ralance.
Salaries		$74,259,56	$ 6,675.94
Lumber	6,000.00	3,173,96	2,826.04

Total	$97,849.73	$84,050.29	$13,799.44

*Overdrawn.

Among the special accounts of the department, that of street sweeping is the most important. For this purpose, the sum of $16,856 25 was transferred to the street department on December 1, 1898, and of this there has been expended to date $14,496.77, leaving a balance of $2359.48. On the street sign account $4000 was allowed, and $3913.35 was expended, leaving a balance of $86.65. The street notices cost $1200 during the year.

BOARD OF PARK COMMISSIONERS. Estimates of Department Expenses for Next Year.

In the annual estimate of the park department the Council is to be asked to appropriate $1500 for the improvement of the recently purchased park site in the Sixth Ward. This park has never been officially named, but it is cerried on the records as South Park. At the meeting of the Board Park. At the meeting of the Board of Park Commissioners yesterday morning a committee of citizens composed of H. D. Everest, E. C. Freeman and Andrew Snyder appeared to request that an appropriation be made in the apportionment of next year's park funds for the improvement of this park. Councilmen Pessell and Toll also addressed the board on the subject and urged that some such allowance as the committee asked be included in the estimate of the department. Mr. Toll said that the Finance Committee did not commit itself to finally allow such an amount, but he urged the necessity of some appropriation for that park, placing it on the same basis with reference to general expenses as other parks instead of including the apportionment in the expense account. The board first took the matter under advisement and later voted to recommend an allowance of $1500.

Awaiting an Opinion.

The Board of Public Works will not consider the petitions of the Traction Railway Company for franchises on Eleventh and on Los Angeles streets at their session this morning for the reason that it is the desire of the members to secure from the City Attorney an opinion as to the legal ability of the City Council to advertise franchises such as this company desires. The board has had the petitions under consideration for several weeks, and heretofore postponements have been or dered on request of attorneys representing the several interested companies. It was stated yesterday by a member of the board that the members were not certain of ther ability under the law to grant such franchises, and that until the City Attorney renders his opinion they will take no action.

Want No Sidewalks. A numerously signed protest was filed in the City Clerk's office yesterday afternoon by owners of property on afternoon by owners of property on Manitou avenue, between Avenue 21 and Alta street, in which they present their objections to the proposed construction of a sidewalk along that street, at this time. The reason advanced for objecting to the work is that the cost would be greater than the property-owners could conveniently stand. At the work is to be done they suggest that it be postponed until later.

City Clerk Hance has engaged the services of six assistants in the work of preparing the supplemental registers for the coming special elections, especially the school bond election, which will be called for about August 1. The work is very important, and must be done carefully as any mistake might deprive a voter of his privilege. It is necessary that the supplemental lists shall be prepared within three or four weeks of the election. As this # over to him. His second complaint is that on March 4 of the same year he advanced $3955.60 to the Herald, with which to purchase a Merganthaler linotype machine. Half of this amount was refunded to him the same day, but he alleges that the balance is still due him.

As a defense to the first count the publishing company answers that the stock was bought by T. Creighton, then an officer of the corporation, and that the $4000 was credited to him.

On the second count, it is claimed that the money advanced for the linotype was credited on a 10-per-cent assessment of stock owned by Creighton and Coyne.

A NEW SCHOLARSHIP.

BEQUEST TO HIGH SCHOOL.

University of California by Her Classmates—"The Rivals" Cleverly Presented at the Class-day

The summer class of '99 of the Los Angeles High School signalized its class day, held yesterday afternoon at the Burbank Theater, by the announcement that it has established the custor of a class scioharship. The girls of the class during the past two weeks have raised $114.50 to aid toward sending one raised $114.50 to aid toward sending one of their number to the University of California To make the properly fulfill its purpose, this sum must be increased to $250, and responses to requests for subscription have been so liberal that it is thought there will be little difficulty in raising

The establishment of the scholarship was announced in the class will, read by Lena Turner, the vice-president. The bequeathing of a scholarship to the High School, instead of the usual long list of student mascots, class honors and gibes, was so novel, creditable and wholly unexpected, that it aroused and wholly unexpected, that it aroused great applause. It was announced that the purpose of the scholarship is to send to Berkeley some woman student distinguished equally for her intellectual promise and her moral and personal worth, it being understood that without the scholarship a college course would be unattainable.

The class-day exercises were highly successful, and the swarming audience of young people that packed the theater and blocked the alsles was liberal of applause.

of young people that packed the theater and blocked the alsles was liberal of applause.

Earle C. Anthony, president of the graduating class, delivered a welcoming address, which was felicitous, concise and to the point. He reminded the audience that the class exceeds by fourteen any that ever before graduated from the High School, and that in connection with the winter class, which graduates tonight with the summer '99, it forms one of the largest classes that ever graduated from a California high school.

"For several years," he continued, "every graduating class has made an earnest appeal to the voters of Los Angeles for a new High School. We hope that we may have the honor of making the final plea. We, the alumni and the undergraduates, are going to work for the High School bonds, so that we may not be obliged to beg for rooms in which to continue our work. The argument has been advanced by our opponents that the High School is a rich man's school. This is not true. A census recently taken shows that the parents of 75 per cent of our pupils are working people. It is, in fact, the poor man's college. It has also been said that the High School course unfits boys and girls for a business life. This is also untrue, for the advantages given help them to higher positions. In proof of this we point to many members of our alumni who are holding excellent business positions."

who are mothing excelent business positions."

The main portion of the afternoon was devoted to the presentation of Richard Brinsley Sheridan's famous comedy, "The Rivals." The keen satire and the polished wit of the dialogue, the finish and ingenuity of the plot, and the clear-cut individuality of the characters made the play afford an excellent opportunity for the students to do their best dramatic work. The costumes were good, the settings appropriate, and much clever stage business had been improvised.

Clinton K. Judy was the timorous but blustering Bob Acres. His best bits of work were the duel scene, and his primping before his mirror, powder puff, in hand: Rey Palmer Hillmah was a stalwart Capt. Absolute; Harry A. Walton was the worrying and worried Faulkland; James Thomas Case displayed a rich brogue as Sir Lucius O'Trigger; Hugh Frazier Neuhart was at ease as Fag, the rogue of a servant; John Dunlap Bowler brought out the humor of the irascible old Sir Anthony Absolute; Grace Barnett. was clever as Lydia Languish; Mabel Keturah Paul made a charming picture as Julia; Genevieve Knoll made a hit as the tongue-twisted Mrs. Malaprop; Nellie Mae Winters was piquant as Lucy, the go-between; Thomas J. Douglas was David; Edward M. Calder, a boy; William Hunter, Thomas, the coachman, and Clarence James Shultz, a servant.

The play was followed by the singing of a clever class song, accompanied by all sorts of jokes upon students and classes, and unique bits of illustrative action. The song was written by Earle C. Anthony, Florence Field and Lena Turner.

FORCED SETTLEMENT. Spier's Questionable Method of Col-

street cyclery, was arrested yesterday on complaint of Herbert Barnett, who alleges that Spier committed a misdestreet cyclery, was arrested yesterday on complaint of Herbert Barnett, who alleges that Spier committed a misdemeanor by unlawfully restraining him of his liberty. After Spier had been arraigned in the Police Court and released on bail, pending trial, which was set for July 11, by jury, he swore to a counter complaint charging Herbert Barnett and his brother Leo with disturbing the peace. The Barnett brothers' appeared in court a little later, accompanied by their father and Maj. Holton, as counsel, and pleaded not guilty. They waived a jury and had their trial set for July 12, being released meanwhile on bail.

The trouble between Spier and the Barnett boys arose from the renting of two bicycles and a tandem, and Spier's peculiar method of collecting pay for damages to one of the wheels. The Barnetts rented the wheels to take a ride with some lady friends. They were to pay $2 for the use of the machines, but they allege that they rode only a short distance before one of the wheels broke down and had to be abandoned. They continued their ride with the other wheels, and on the following morning returned all three to the shop as agreed.

Spier was not pleased at seeing one of the wheels broked he price agreed upon for their use, but declined to pay for repairs as he contended that the broken wheel was defective when it was taken out of the shop, and did not collapse through any fault of the rider. Spier insisted on extra pay, and in order to enforce it he locked the doors of the shop and told the boys they could not get out until they had liquidated the full amount claimed. After considerable parleying, Barnett paid the money demanded and then was permitted to take his departure.

After consulting with his father about the affair, a demand was made on Spier for a rebate of the alleged overcharge, which was refused, and then a camplaint was sworn out against the bicycle man for unlawful restraint. Spier, as soon as convenient, retailiated by having the Barnett boys arrested on the charge of disturbing the peace.

Engelke's Assailant Punished. Joe Muller, the tough citizen who struck Charles Engelke, a First-street wednesday evening, was given a sentence of $30 or thirty days by Justice Morgan yesterday. Engelke has a badly-contused face.

victims of the raid of Simpson and Brown's Los Angeles-street dive, ap-peared before Justice Morgan yesterday morning, withdrew her plea of not guilty of disturbing the peace and paid a fine of $5. This clears the docket of all but one of these cases, of which there was a total of sixty of which there was a total of sixtyseven. William Markins has not yet settled with the court, but he is expected to take his medicine at 3 o'clock this afternoon. This will leave only the case of Simpson and Brown, who are charged with keeping a disorderly house, to be disposed of. They have demanded a jury trial, which has been set for July 17, but it is has been set for July 17, but it is stated that they have about made up their minds to give up the fight, plead guilty and throw themselves on the mercy of the court, instead of wasting any more time and money in defend-ing themselves, with the chance of almost certain conviction and the in-fliction of a much severer penalty in that event than if they adopted a less troublesome course.

almost certain conviction and the infilction of a much severer penalty in that event than if they adopted a less troublesome course.

The raiding of the dive has been a hard blow to the Darktown slums. It has put a check on other so-called clubs and resulted in keeping away many persons who have been patronizing the tough joints, and no one relishes the idea of being hauled into court for being caught in such a place.

The wholesale arrest and punishment of the participants in last Saturday night's orgie shows what the police can do when they are so minded, or are not held back by orders of their superiors to refrain from enforcing the law against certain persons who enjoy the friendship of the powers that be. There is no question that Simpson's den of vice could have been suppressed by the police long ago if the officers on the beat had not been held in restraint by a higher power. It was not until The Times called attention to the inertness of the police in regard to allowing such a sink of inquity to exist right in the heart of the wholesale district, that the police were moved to action.

Justice Morgan's prompt and effective disposition of the cases, netting the city nearly $200 in revenues, thus far, is the subject of favorable comment, and the police can no longer take refuge behind the threadbare excuse that it is useless to make arrests in such cases, because the judiciary refuses to uphold the action of the arresting officers.

A story is going the rounds that Chief Glass made the suggestion several days ago that it would be a good idea to secure the membership list of Simpson's club for publication, a committee of the Police Commissioners visited the club to see what names were enrolled on the membership register. It had been an open secret that one of the commissioners and a number of present and former city officials were enrolled just before election, but when the commissioners examined the register, the pages containing the distinguished names were missing. Manager Simpson could not account for their abstraction, but the impression prevails that word of the proposed inspection had been sent ahead, and that the books were doctored to suit the occasion.

The General Committee on Conven tion Hall met yesterday afternoon at the office of the Merchants' and Man-ufacturers' Association and decided to invite the architects to submit preliminary sketches of the proposed conven tion hall on July 8, next, at 3 p. m. It is the intention of the committee to ex-hibit these preliminary plans in prominent show windows, the public an idea of what the associa Inent show windows, thereby giving the public an idea of what the association proposes to accomplish. Subsequently a prize will be offered for competitive plans, one of which will finally be adopted for the building.

The interest in the movement is increasing as the people realize the necessity of a large convention hall if this city expects in future to entertain large numbers of delegates. If the enterprise undertaken by the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association meets with the financial support of the public at large, it is the hope that the hall will be constructed and ready for occupancy at the time when the political State conventions take place next year, that can be secured if adequate accommodations can be guaranteed.

The Committee on Ways and Means and Incorporation is devising a plan to raise the money by popular subscriptions. As soon as the committee shall have formulated such a plan, the report will be submitted to the General Committee.

Another Father and Son Cured.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 26, 1899:

I came here from Grand Rapids, Mich., a year ago last April, suffering from a very severascrotum rupture. I was so bad off that I could hardly walk. My son, J. F. Haller, having been cured by Prof. Joseph Fandrey, European Specialist in Rupture Curing, 642 S. Main St., insisted on my going with him to see the Professor to find out what he could do for me, so we went (although I had little faith, having tried several doctors in the East without success.) The Prof. called my case a hard one to cure, for I am 64 years old, but he gave me relief at once, and I have done work such as to be done on the farm, also rode horseback.

Today I am perfectly WELL and HAPPY and I think him the CHAMPION OF RUP-TURE CURERS. He cured me without injection, operation or detention from work. Any one wishing information, call or address to 134 San Fernando St. F. HALLER. Barber shop opposite River Station. Another Father and Son Cured.

Grand Master F. M. Angelotti of San Rafael, and Grand Lecturer William H. Edwards are making a tour of official visits to the lodges in the southern part of the State. They were with West Gate Lodge last evening.

The notable event of the week in fraternal circles in this city was the celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of Pentalpha Lodge, No. 202, Tuesday evening, on which occasion there were assembled in the blue lodge room nearly four hundred members of the craft, including delegations from all the city lodges, numbers from Pasadens, Long Beach, San Pedro and other neighboring places, as well as visitors from sixteen eastern jurisdictions, indena, Long Beach, San Pedro and other neighboring places, as well as visitors from sixteen eastern jurisdictions, including Maine and Canada. The event was not alone notable for the attendance, but also on account of the presence of Grand Master F.M. Angelotti and other grand lodge officers, and from the fact that the new work recently adopted was used in conferring the Master Mason degree, which was done by W. H. Hervey, W.M., and other officers of the lodge, and which brought back recollections of other days to many present who had seen similar work in the East. It is a dedays to many present who had seen similar work in the East. It is a decided change for the better. At the close of the proceedings in the lodge room the assembly were invited to the banquet hall, where ample accommodations had been provided, and to which 275 sat down. At the conclusion of the repast, when clgars had been reached, numerous speeches were made, prominent among them being those of Grand Master Angelotti, who concluded his remarks with a eulogy to Judge W. H. Clark; Senior Grand Warden J. A. Foshay, Grand Lecturer W. H. Edwards, Grand Standard Bearer S. Prager and others. Pentalpha lodge was ushered into existence June 24, 1869, with ten charter members, and now its membership is 380. T ODAY is the twenty-sixth anniver-sary of the founding of the order, and the event will be appropriately celebrated in many portions of the State, the most elaborate of which will be at San Francisco. The Supreme Lodge has abolished the personal affidavit of good health heretofore required of members susthe personal amidavit of good health heretofore required of members suspended for less than thirty days. John P. Shannon of Elberton. Ga., has been elected Supreme Dictator. Several propositions for the relief of members over 70 years of age have been presented to the Supreme body. The members of Los Angeles Lodge, No. 2925, last evening celebrated the twenty-sixth anniversary of the order in a fitting manner. The order has over 80,000 members, and has paid to widows and orphans of 34,200 deceased members the sum of $66,650,000. The order is now paying out a quarter-million dollars each month in death benefits. Los Angeles Lodge is just 16 years old, and has 142 members. Six of the charter members, the first member by card, and the first member intiated (now Past Grand Dictator of California,) in this lodge are still in good standing. Death has claimed thirty members of this lodge and their beneficiaries have been paid $55,500 by the Supreme Lodge. Every dollar of this sum was contributed by members of Los Angeles Lodge.

SALES OF RESIDENCE PROPERTY.

The week's transactions are by no means confined to sales of business property. Another firm, Lee A. McConnell & Co., has made a number of sales of residence property during the past few days. They sold an 8-room two-story house located at No. 817 West Twenty-third street, owned by D. Noble, to A. T. Stewart for $2800; also a house situated on the south side of Orange street, between Valencia and Union avenue, for George Stimson, to Mrs. M. Rice, 'for $260. Mrs. Rice will make this her residence. The same firm also sold to George W. Stimson a lot on the east side of Beacon street, between Ninth and Tenth, for $1200; a lot for A. Bixel to E. Roth on the west side of Union, between Eighth and Ninth, for $1350; a large lot 114x177 feet on the southeast corner of Stxth and Maple avenue for J. W. Vejar to John R. STREET LAWS AND STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

A recent dispatch from Kansas City

A recent dispatch from Kansas City announces that the United States Cir-cuit Court there has rendered a deciscuit Court there has rendered a decision, declaring the method of property assessment for street improvement unconstitutional. The method which prevails in Missouri is said to be similar to that of the Vrooman act. This is in line with two similar decisions recently rendered by the Supreme Court of the United States and the Superior Court of Sonoma county, and has naturally had the effect of further depreciating the value of street bonds issued under this act, and of further complicating the question of street improvements. One result of this decision has already been that a contractor who has the contract for improving a street in the southwestern part of the city has sent in a com-munication, asking that the Council al-low him to withdraw from his con-tract, and to recover his check on the deposit, as he cannot dispose of any

A correspondent sends the following

A correspondent sends the following communication:

"I agree with those who have written you expressing their appreciation of your paragraphs relating to the unjust working of the Vrooman act, and I suggest that many of your readers would be interested to know, also, how much it costs the city, per year, to maintain and keep in order streets that have been prematurely graded. Some city politician suggested this question to the Council two years or more ago, but was promptly and emphatically sat down on by that much-surprised body.

"Then, again, it would be interest ing to know to what extent the grad rThen, again, it would be interesting to know to what extent the grading of miles upon miles of little-limproved streets has had on the market price of real estate, by bringing an excessive supply of property into the market, much of it being pressed for sale to pay assessments. Is this a reason why residence property is worth in the market scarcely more than half what it is in other cities of corresponding size and thrift?"

It would be difficult to ascertain definitely how much money the city has expended in maintaining and keeping in order streets that have been prematurely graded. To judge from the condition of some of these streets, where the sidewalks are overgrown with weeds waist high, and in many places covered with tons of clay that has fallen from the banks, the expense of maintenance, after the property-owners have been cajeled or buildozed into paying for these unnecessary improvements, is not very great—or, at least, it should not be, to judge from the results achieved.

This unnecessary work has doubtless had the effect of greatly depreciating the value of such property, as the correspondent suggests. In any case, the value of such property, is little if any greater than it was before the improvements were made. For instance, the late husband of a Los Angeles woman, who is now a widow, bought a cheap lot on the edge of the oil region. for which he paid $100. It was located on a hill, and he expended another $100 in leveling it. Then came a street-car company, which cut a big gash through the reason of the property forty feet above and the content of the property of the company which cut a big gash through the care of the city, with a court of the content of no charge. Next came the city, with out, which left the property forty fee above grade, for which "improve ment" they taxed this property-owne $112. The next thing in order was ment" they taxed this property-owner $112. The next thing in order was a sewer, costing $30. This makes a total of $242 worth of improvements on a hundred-dollar lot, which could not today be sold for $250.

As The Times has said, the result of the agitation of this subject will, undoubtedly, be to bring about a more satisfactory condition of things in street improvements, and to restore to property-owners a few of those rights which they were in danger of losing.

A SAN DIEGO RANCH.

There was recently filed in the Recorder's office in San Diego county a deed in which Charles Martin Company an undivided three-eighths interest in the Santa Isabel ranch in that county, containing four square leagues of land, together with an undivided three-eighths of all the stock and other personal property on the ranch, for a consideration of $27,000. In another deed Mr. Martin county an undivided one-eighth of the county an undivided one-eighth interest in the ranch, stock and other personal property for $3000. There are 17,719 acres in the ranch.

The San Diego Union states that Mr. Martin is a resident of Marin county.

GOVERNMENT LAND.

GOVERNMENT LAND.

There is still a considerable quantity of government land in Southern Callfornia, although most of it is so much "on edge," that it would make a most attractive stampink ground for those contractors who delight in cutting big gashes through the hills. That which is not mountainous is arid, and of little or no value without irrigation. Even in the roughest and most hilly sections, however, there are little open places which would make good bee ranches. Most of these are at present remote from communication, and to enjoy life there a man must be something of a hermit in disposition. During the past year the United States Land Office has provided 535 homesteaders with quarter-sections in the Los Angeles land district, making a total of over $5,000 acres. This district embraces all of Southern California south of Kern county, and a portion of that county. There is still a considerable quantity

There is a real estate owner in this city who has passed, by over ten years, the span of life allotted to man by the psalmist, yet who can give many points to young men, when it comes to rustling for business. On his writing paper, envelopes and cards he has an announcement, "To homeseekers," as follows:

"In this, God's own charming country of sunshine, flowers and of orange blossoms, on which He smiles down through the sun and nature laughs back through the flowers.

"If I can do you any good let me do it now, for I shall never come this way again."

He also informs prospective customers that he is "owner of twenty-four houses for rent, thirteen of them furnished, and over 400 building lots for sale on installments. Also handsome tracts of land for subdivision for sale on easy terms."

LOS ANGELES BUILDING.

Last week in this department the statement was published that the building permits iseued in Los Angeles from January 1, 1891, to May, 1899, amounted in value to $17,88',443. This the Times stated was at the rate of "over $4,000,000 a year." The statistics were correct, but the conclusion was obviously wrong. It should have been $2,500,000, instead of $4,000,000.

The Land and Title Register recently published the following list, showing the highest price said to have been paid for property in various American cities. Los Angeles is not included in the list. It is said that the highest price paid for property in Los Angeles was $2000 a foot, paid by a bank for twenty-six feet front adjoining its building on North Main street, the improvements on the lot being of nominal value:

Atlanta, Ga., northeast corner of Marrietta and Broad streets, April, 1898, $406$ per front foot on Marrietta, now occupied by old two-story building.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES, LOS ANGELES, June 29, 1899. JULY DISBURSEMENTS. Savings banks, and many other institutions will make half-yearly disbursements in dividends next week. This will trans-ter directly to the hands of the people who spend nearly all their income, a very large amount of money. For ex-ample, there are seven savings banks ample, there are seven savings banks in Los Angeles. Their deposits amount to something over $7,000,000. On this amount between 3½ and 4 per cent. dividends will be paid. In round numbers the amount will be not less than $125,000. From this some idea of what will be disbursed in the United States may be gained. The effect will be to make an easy money market.

COMMERCIAL.

FALL IN SUGAR. Contrary to the expectations of such experts as Willetts & Gray, the American Grocer and letts & Gray, the American Grocer and the Grocery World, the price of sugar has been lowered one-sixteenth of a cent. This reduces the differential between raw at the present market quotations and refined to about 45 cents per 100 pounds. It is claimed that the cost of refining ranges at 35 to 50 cents per 100 pounds, according to the perfection of the refining plant. It is thought that there will be no change of price in this market. Still, the situation is less secure than it seemed to be.

CITRUS FRUIT IN NEW YORK.
The visible supply of lemons for this and other ports is about 315,000 boxes, says the American Grocer, of which 250,000 boxes are afloat. The crop along the Mediterranean is pretty well shipped, so that the situation works more favorable for the market. At auction, on Tuesday, Palermo lemons sold at 33.87½; half-boxes, $1.55 for best marks; Maiori and Sorrento up to $6, and as low as $2.37½. On Thursday, $4 was obtained for Palermo, $5.37½ for Maiori, $3.50 for Messina, $4.87½ for Messina oranges, with sound fruit bringing from $4 to $5.50 per box. The hot weather hurt the market for deciduous fruits.

CANNED-GOODS MARKET. The packers and jobbers everywhere are now beginning to realize the extent of now beginning to realize the extent of the shortage in peas this season, says a Baltimore expert, and are buying liberally at prices they would not think of paying two weeks ago. We now believe that if all the pea-packers in all sections of the country outside of Maryland produce as many peas as they will be able to pack, their entire output will not replace the shortage in Maryland. There will be the greatest shortage in second peas, both Marrowfats and early Junes. We advise dealers to supply themselves with them wherever they can be bought to the best advantage. This market won't be able to supply the demand this season.

son. Make a memorandum that this will be an advancing year for nearly all kinds of canned goods, and keep it before you. There was a good basis to start from in the beginning, so far as Baltimore goods are concerned, and conservative purchases made now in the right direction will be productive of good results. String beans and white wax beans are now being packed, and the prices are fair for new goods.

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS. BORAX IN CURED MEATS. Before

Senate Pure Food Investigating Committee, at one of its sessions in Chicago, Robert T. Lunham of the Lunham Packing Company, talking of preservatives in packed meats, said the preservatives in packed meats, said the export of meats was insignificant until borax was employed. The use of that chemical is now universal among packers of meat for export. After the meat is cured in salt the borax is applied at the rate of five to seven pounds to a 500-pound box of bacon.

The English did not like our meats when shipped without borax. A slime when shipped without borax. A slime forms on such heats, and it is too sait.

forms on such heats, and it is too eait. There is no secret about the use of borax. Mr. Lunham did not think the meat absorbed any of the chemical.

The effect of a law prohibiting the use of borax in packing meats would, in his opinion, bring our business to a standstill.

Centuries ago our forefathers cured meats without the use of borax, which were unexcelled for texture and flavor, but the process required more time and care than the newer methods, which may have all the merits claimed and be harmless. Let meats preserved with borax be so labeled, and the people will decide very quickly as to whether the meat is wholesome and such as they want.

DEPARTMENT STORES APPOAR

DEPARTMENT STORES ABBOAT

DEPARTMENT STORES ABROAD. There exists a strong movement in Germany against the department stores, according to a report from Consul-General Mason, the consular representative of this government at Berlin, and various measures have been before the Reichstag aimed at their suppression. Most of these take the form of a progressive tax, such as has been enacted in Missouri, but no legislation has as yet been applied. In France a retailers' league of 40,000 members has been formed to oppose department stores, one of which is instanced as having extinguished 900 small shops, and as now doing a business of $30,000,000 a year, or enough "to maintain from 1800 to 2000 small stores."

WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH HAVEMEYER? The American Sugar Refining Company, the Sugar Trust, says the Philadelphia Press, makes its money on the difference between the cost of raw sugar and the price of refined sugar. Every addition to this difference increases its profits. Every decrease in it lessens its profits. Every decrease in it lessens its profits. Under the Wilson tariff the yearly average net price of the standard grade of raw sugar (96 deg. centrifugal.) the price of granulated or refined surar and the difference between them per pound in cents was as follows:

				Differ-
		Raw.	Refined	. ence
1894	*	.3.240	4.120	0.88
1895		.3.270	4.152	0.88
1896		.3.624	4.532	0.90
1897	*		4.503	0.94
As	will be seen.	unde	r the	Wilson

As will be seen, under the Wilson tariff this gap steadily widened, and every increase must be multiplied by $5,000,000,000 pounds, which is about the average annual melting of the trust. The Dingley tariff came in 1897, and this is awhat happened with the difference on which depended Mr. Havemeyer's profits:

tive tariff, it is natural for H. O. Havemeyer to discover that the "tariff is the mother of trusts." If it had been as kind a nursing mother to his trust under the Dingley as under the Wilson tariff he would have been

Sugar pears brought 60 cents per large box, while better kinds sold up to $1.75. Apricots are plentiful at 3 to 3% cents from first hands. Figs range at 50 to 60 cents for tenpound boxes. Black grapes sold at $1.75 to $2 and white at $1.25 to $1.60. Royal Anne cherries, eighty boxes, all in the hands of one firm, sold at $1. Currants are cheaper than at any previous date this season, selling in one-box lots at 60 cents. Berries are unchanged, apples the same.

No dried fruit is shown here yet. Any amount could be sold at $3 cents for apricots. Canners have been paying from $20 to $27.50 per ton for apricots and peaches. Those too ripe for cooking will be dried. A full pack, 300 to 350 cars, is looked for. These warm days will force free drying. Still fresh apricots are bringing $60 per ton in the local market for immediate consumption. At $20 per ton the dried fruit will be worth 7½ cents, at $25 $%, and $27.50 over 9 cents. As canners are paying $30 up for peaches, the dried product will be worth 7½ to 8 cents. San Francisco experts smile at this price, saying the pack will be as much as 2000 cars and that lower prices must prevail to market that much.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Shares and Money.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 29.—The stock market showed the effect of continued profit-taking reaction. The lively breaking after the opening for London account seemed for å time to refute the position of the bears, but later in the day, when this demand had been satisfied and an announcement was made of a $2,000,000 gold shipment to so Saturday, in spite of the low price for sterling exchange, the bears gained renewed confidence, and the market sagged away without much interruption until the last. The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows that the bank has succeeded in increasing its stock of gold only about $300,000 during the bear with the demands upon it by the money while the demands upon it by the money while the demands upon it by the money while the demands upon it for the stock-exchange settlement to the stock-exchange settlement for settlement in a stock of the bank settlement in a stock of the stock-exchange of the widely-expressed uneasiness in England over the present low stage of the bank set of the bank's reserve. The fail in Eritish console of 5-16 was due to cash sales, probably connected with the state of the bank's reserve. That the return did not have a greater effect on the London stock market was probably due to the reassuring opinion of the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, expressed last night on the subject of the reserve of the Bank of, England. The local stock market, owing to the sustaining effect of the British chancel of the subject of the subje

Scarcity of Material Continues and Labor Troubles Threaten to Hinder the Filling of Orders Already

IA. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT 1

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

NEW YORK, June 29.—Reviewing trade conditions, the Iron Age says today:

"The close of the current month minessed the end of many low-priced contracts on which makers of all kinds have been delivering. It is becoming more and more apparent that the markets will not during the balance of the year, turnish buy. during the balance of the year furnish buy curing the balance of the year furnish buy-ers a pretext for cancelling of contracts en-tered into so far. In fact, it looks now as though a good deal of tonnage would be carried into next year. Some of the larger concerns in the country are failing more behind instead of gaining on their commitments, and that may take the mar-ket well over the midwinter duliness.

more benind instead or gaining on their commitments, and that may take the market well over the midwinter duliness.

"So far as we can learn, the majority of the really live concerns are filled up for the balance of the year and can take orders only when they can arrange for post-ponement of older work. Some of the rail mills have thus found it possible to mage some steel billets available. Heally important movements do not seem likely for a long time to come, and the question of next year's work will therefore be in abeyance, except in those cases where material must be bought to cover contracts for structures, etc.

"The scarcity of material continues ali along the line. It is sometimes believed that it is artificial only because makers are making deliveries on old, cheap orders, for the purpose of meeting the demands of consumers, wno are paying higher prices on more recent orders. They may be done in some cases, but we believe that the majority of makers are doing their best to get the old orders out of the way. In view of the fact that every mill is strained to the utmost to get out material, it is unformante that there is some danger of labor troubles. It looks as though the Amalgamated Association is ambitious to conquer olst ground in the Pitesburgh district, where the majority of the iron mills are now non-union. It is not a question of wages, but a matter of organization, which may prove troublesome.

"In the tin-plate industry, the American Tin Plate Company has offered to pay an advance equivalent to that paid by the manufacturer of sheets. This amcunts to about 11 per cent. Grain and Produce.

Grain and Produce.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 29.—Weakness characterized the opening in wheat. Weather was favorable for the harvesting of winter wheat and the growth of spring. Liverpool cables were somewhat disappointing, showing slight declines in some futures, and Northwest receipts, though showing some failing-off, were still too heavy to permit of any bullishness from that source. There was in addition an inclination to even up on trades over the holidays, and these factors ruled the market for the first half-bour. September opened at 74½. It soon declined to 74½, then gradually turned strong and, though many minor fluctuations occurred, the tendency in the main was toward higher prices until late in the afternoon. Reports from the Northwest were far from estisfactory, concerning growing wheat. Many complaints of damage were received, principally from rust, while from the winter-wheat country reports of harvesting operations were desappointing in some cases. The northwestern markets showed strength even when this market was declining, and as this was regarded as evidence of the truth of the damage reports, it had a strengthening effect on the local market. Russian news became somewhat of a factor again. Private advices from Russia declared that country would not produce over half a crop and a noticeable increase in the buying occurred when this became known. Shortly after moon the market turned weak. September declined to 74½ and closed at that price; July closed 72½; December, 75%@76. Corn was dull and heavy. September closed 40% 10 lower at 3463445; July, 33%; December 334,@33%. Oats were quiet and easy, the weakness being more marked in July. September closed a shade lower at 21%; July, 24½; May, 23%. Provisions were quiet and heavy, with more pressure on July than on the most distant futures. At the close, September pork was $2560 lower. Lard, 5 lower; The $250 lower. Boston Wool Market.

Boston, June 29.—The American Wool and Cotton Reporter will say tomorrow:

"The wool market has continued active and strong. During the past week prices have reached the highest figures seen in more than a year, and the tendency is, at this writing, unmistakely upward. Manufacturers, traders and speculators have been operating quite freely, both the large and small mills being represented in the market, and all have apparently come to the conclusion that it is no use to stand out longer against the inevitable rise in wool. Prices exceeding 50 cents clean for fine Territory wools have been freely paid, choice selected staple commanding as much as $5,654. Some large lines of wool have been taken at current quotations. The strength and buoyancy shown by the market were accentuated by the reports received from the London wool sales, which opened Tuesday with a good attendance and offering of 234,000 bales. The continued strength and increased activity shown in the market has naturally exerted a strengthening influence. Sales of the week at Boston amounted to 5,408,800 pounds of domestic and 705,000 pounds of forcign, making a total of 6,113,500, against a total of 6,654,400 for the previous week, and a total of 1,261,500 for the revious week, and a total of 1,261,500 for the corresponding week last year. Sales since January 1, 1899, amount to 124,638,200 pounds, against 54,906,-319 pounds last, year at this time."

Question as to the District's Legal Rights Submitted to District Attorney—Changes in List of Teachers-A Relief Corps Day.

PASADENA, June 29.—[Regular Correspondence.] A meeting of the Trustees of the Pasadens school district was held this svesing. It was expected that they would take some action with reference to establishing free public kindergartens here, in accordance with the favorable vote of the citation of the control of the citation of the control of the citation of the citat sens a month ago. The Trustees are avor of building a large new schoolhouse the eastern part of the city and making room y transfers for kindergarten departments n other schoolhouses. The progress of their clans has been delayed, however, by the ac-tion of the County Superintendent of Schools. t turns out that there is some doubt in the aind of that official as to the legal right of school district of this size to appropriate mind of that official as to the legal right of a school district of this size to appropriate funds for indergartens. Other county superintendents and the State Superintendents have ruled that the right exists, but Superintendent Strine is no disposed to ablde altogether by their precedents and has submitted the question to the District Attorney. The district trustees therefore will take no further action till the District Atorney has sent in his decision. The promoters of the kindergarten enterprise will be disappointed at this delay.

The Trustees tonight canvassed the appointment of teachers. Four teachers will drop out of the High School and three negroes will be elected to do their work, as all of them have not given full time. There will be at least two changes in the other schools and perhaps a third. The annual election of teachers will take place on Saturday.

Reach the Courts.

ANAHEIM, June 29—[Regualr Correspondence.] The matter of reclaiming the old Plaza site, set apart in an original map of the city, caused a hot discussion at the meeting of the City Trustees last night. A letter from Bishop Mongomery in benair of the Catholic Church, which owns a part of the Catholic Church, which owns a part of the property involved, stated that if the city insisted a legal fight could be had. The blishop thought that inasmuch as the present owners had paid taxes on the property for twenty-five years and the city nad accepted them without question, it was a late day at which to begin outsing proceedings. He further affirmed that several decisions in similar cases had been made by the Suprems Court in favor of defandants, Mr. Williamson of Los Angeles, another interested property owner, was present and made some warm remarks along lines similar to those advanced by Bishop Montgomery. In a tilt with City Attorney Chynoweth, who affirmed that the city had a clear case and at the last meeting of the Trustees was voted $250 to conduct it, Mr. Williamson declared pointedly that the attorney did not know what he was talking about. Four decisions, Mr. Williamson continued, had been made by the Supreme Court, which covered the Anaheim case, and each was interrupted by the chairman of the loard. He moved that it be put over for two weeks more. This was done. The property-owners now declare that the city will get nothing without a fight.

The proposition for a term of years. The proposition to be drawn up tomorrow embraces only one overture to the Boston and Albany, and nothing will be done at this meeting about drafting proposi-tions to other lines which are reported as likely to be absorbed by the New York Central.

Although the Boston and Albany deal will be the sole object on this occasion, he fact remains that the completion of this transaction does not wind up the negotiations under way. As fast as is practicable, steps will be taken toward negotiations under way. As fast as is practicable, steps will be taken toward taking other properties into the system, and plans are well under way for a complete consolidation of the New York, New Haven and Hartford, the Fitchburg, the Boston and Maine and the Maine Central with the New York Central. The Vanderbilt influence in the New Haven at this time is powerful, if not dominant, and the connections between the Boston and Maine and the Boston and Albany are close.

The acquisition by the New York Central of the Boston and Albany and later of the Fitchburg roads would enable the Central to divert an important part of the Wheeling and other export freight traffic to Boston, where the trains run directly to the steamship wharves, thus saving the lightering charges which must be met on such freight coming to this port.

The absorption of the Chicago and Northwestern, the Union Pacific and the Oregon Short Line are maturing rapidly, it is said, and may come to a focus almost any time.

The Big Four and the Chesapeake and Ohio are said to be included in the scheme of consolidation, and in due time and under proper conditions, will merge into the New York Central.

FOREIGNERS ARE BARRED. Delinquent Texas Corporations Will Lose Their Franchises.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] CHICAGO, June 29 .- A special to the Record from Austin, Texas, says that Atty.-Gen. Smith has rendered an opin-ion that when a foreign corporation, which has been granted a permit to do business in the State, becomes delin-quent in its franchise tax payment and fails to make such payment, together with the prescribed penalty of $5 per month, within six months of the time the delinquency occurs, its right to do business in Texas cannot be revived by granting a new permit.

Under this ruling, a large number of foreign corporations that have been negligent in paying their franchise tax to the State are not only temporarily outlawed, but are forever debarred from transacting business in Texas.

DETROIT RETURNS HOME. United States Cruiser Back from Bluefields, Nicaragua. PASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.

NEW YORK, June 29 .- The United Detroit, Commande Dayton, arrived during the night and anchored off Tompkinsville. The De-troit was at Bluefields taking care of the American merchants there, whose lives and property were endangered by the unsettled state of Nicaragua's politics. The Detroit brought from Bluefields the body of Gen. Daniel McAuley of Indiana, who died at Managua, Nicaragua, several years ago.

Commander Dayton is to go on waiting orders, being replaced by Commander J. N. Hemphill, now in command of the Buffalo. The transfer is to be made August 1.

NOT MEALY-MOUTHED.

Evangelist Mealy Poses as a Perse cuted Son of Thunder.

George D. Mealy, a meek and lowly Nazarene who thinks he has a special mission to preach the gospel in the highways and byways whenever he can get an audience, was tried on the charge of disturbing the peace, in the Police Court yesterday afternoon. Mealy is the man who was arrested by Officer Talamantes Thursday night while haranguing a crowd at First and Los Angeles streets. Talamantes thought the preacher was disturbing the peace while haranguing a crowd at First and Los Angeles streets. Talamantes thought the preacher was disturbing the peace of the neighborhood by preaching so loud. Several women living in the vicinity, testified that their peace was disturbed to grievous extent by the preacher's stentorian tones. But Justice Morgan, after hearing the long-haired evangelist's story, adjudged the culprit not guilty and ordered him discharged.

Mealy, while testifying in his own behalf, lifted his eyes to heaven and spoke with great unction, in a sonorous sing-song tone, as though delivering a sermon to a gaping multitude. In answer to questions propounded by his answer to questions propounded by his counsel, the court and the District-At-torney, he said:

"My name is George D. Mealy (he had been booked by a facetious police torney, he said:
"My name is George D. Mealy (he had been booked by a facetious police clerk as Hard Tack) and I am 55 years old. I am a single man, and live in a shanty at No. 105 North Hill street. I belong to the church of the living God, but hold allegiance to no particular denomination. I began praching the belong to the church of the living God, but hold allegiance to no particular denomination. I began preaching the gospel of Christ in Oakland, Cal., in 1875, and have traveled in many States. For the last four years I have been preaching in this city. Last night I went to First and Los Angeles streets. There was an infidel doctor preaching there on one corner and some Mormons on another. After the Mormons went away, the ex-lawyer, Rufus C. White, exhorted the people against the evils of polygamy. When the people left him and went to hear the infidel, Dr. Davis, I stepped into the street and began to sing a hymn. I beckoned to a brother whom I saw in the crowd, and he stepped out and helped me. After we had sung two hymns, I knelt down and prayed. Then I rose and began to preach as the words of truth came to me. While I was talking an officer came up to me. I can not quote his words of authority, but to avoid a disturbance I walked away as I had often done before. The man followed me up. Then some of the baser sort of men rushed in. They were excited and some of them were drunk. I kept on exhorting them to turn from their evil ways. It was in my heart to deliver the message as it came to me. The officer called for the patrol wagon. I did not preach so zealously then, but still kept on talking. I was sent to The officer called for the patrol wagon. I did not preach so zealously then, but I still kept on talking. I was sent to the station, where the clerk told me I was charged with disturbing the peace. When informed what the ball was I put up $10 in gold and was released. I had no object in preaching, as I did, except to benefit the lost men, drunkards and harlots; there were plenty of them there. I spoke with all my strength. The Savior named two of his disciples Sons of Thunder, you know."

know."

This last remark was given as an excuse for preaching in thunder tones. Mealy thought he had as much right to preach in the streets as Mormons and infidels. The court agreed with him on that point, but in dismissing the complaint, Justice Morgan took occasion to remark:

"This man thinks he has a special mission to preach. I think he should be examined by a lunacy commission."

AGAINST A NUISANCE.

Citizens Want Law and Order at Sy neeting of Garvanza citizens was held last evening to protest against the continuance of Sycamore Grove picnic grounds. Prof. Wadsworth acted as chairman, and R. W. Poindexter as secretary. Judge M. T. Allen stated the object of the meeting to be the repression of the nuisance at Sycamore Grove. He referred to the orgies car-Grove. He referred to the orgies carried on there, and told how night was made hideous. He said the Catholic Beneficial Association had engaged the place for the Fourth of July, and that, as Bishop Montgomers had been advertised to speak, he had interviewed the bishop and had been assured that the latter would not speak if any liquor were sold that day. He had not heard directly from the directors of the affair. However, Mr. Sentous, representing the French Benevolent Society, had seen him and told him that he did not know that the people of the neighborhood objected, and as soon as the French society learned of it, they abandoned the idea.

Joseph Scott, representing the Catholic Beneficial Association, stated that there had been no intention on their part to antagonize anybody who was seeking to repress a nuisance, and that there would be no liquor sold at their picnic on the Fourth. He said the association tendered its sympathy to the vicinity in the fight. Thereupon Judge Allen moved that the hearty thanks of the meeting be tendered to the above-named societies, to Bishop Montgomery and to Mr. Scott for their cooperation. The motion carried unanimously.

A committee was appointed to solicit a guarantee fund to provide for the maintenance of law and order at the grove. Volunteer subscriptions were called for, and $350 was realized. ried on there, and told how night was
